Two Candidates For Democratic Ticket Tangle

GRAND RAPIDS (P)—The race for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant-governor was enlivened Wednesday night by a sharp exchange between the two candidates.

Philip A. Hart said George S. Fitzgerald was ordered into the race by forces whose only aim is to defeat Gov. Williams.

Fitzgerald fired back that Hart is a "hand-picked machine candidate."

Hart told a television audience that Fitzgerald was spending "enormous sums" of money in his campaign. He said Fitzgerald "took a walk" from the party in 1950 and "gave aid and comfort" to former Gov. Harry F. Kelly in his comeback campaign against Gov. Williams.

"Neither my opponent nor the forces he represents are interested in the Democratic program for Michigan," Hart declared. "They want only to elect a Republican to the governorship in 1954 as they tried to do in 1950."

Fitzgerald, just back from a swing through the Upper Peninsula, accused Hart of "attempting to split the Democratic party."

The AFL Teamsters Union attorney and former Democratic national committeeman asserted: "If I'm going to have to fight a machine, I'm going to take off the kid gloves."

The Democratic voters never did submit to dictation by any machine.

French Outposts Fall To Rebels In Red River Delta

By FORREST EDWARDS

HANOI, Indochina (P)—Two French defense outposts fell before Vietnamese attackers as monsoon rains came to the Red River delta Wednesday and Wednesday night.

Vietnamese defenders abandoned the post of Chiquan, 25 miles west of Hanoi, after a brief fight against 400 to 500 Vietnamese attackers, a French briefing officer reported.

Thirty-five miles northwest of Hanoi, a second small post on the edge of delta defenses crumbled under another Vietnamese attack.

The briefing officer said Vietnamese defenders of both posts were beating their way back to Son Tay through guerrilla infested territory inside the French defense line, northwest of Hanoi.

Group Kidnaped July 4 Turned Loose By Reds

WALDHAUS, Germany (P)—Seven American soldiers, held in Communist Czechoslovakia since American Independence Day, crossed the border to freedom today at noon after 12 days in captivity.

The six enlisted men and a captain were turned over at this West German-Czech border point where Associated Press correspondent William Oatis was freed more than a year ago.

They were met by a detachment from the U.S. 2nd Armored Cavalry, which is stationed along the East-West frontier.

In Good Condition

An Army spokesman said earlier that "after a routine interrogation, a news conference will be held," probably Saturday.

U. S. Army authorities said the men appeared to be in "good condition" and that they reported "the food was good."

The seven, taken while on a holiday inspection of Europe's grim frontier with communism are:

Capt. Jack Davis, Raytown, Mo.

Pvt. Richard J. Jumper, Boonville, Miss.

Pfc. Leonard D. Tennis, Alliance, Ohio.

Cpl. John F. Glasson, Oakdale, Calif.

Pvt. Ross F. McGinnis, Greensburg, Pa.

Pfc. George Switzer, Milburn, Neb.

Pfc. Jerry W. Griffith, Springfield, Ohio.

Negotiations To End Indochina War Given Fresh Push At Geneva

By SEYMOUR TOPPING

GENEVA (P)—France and Britain, elated by new support from the United States, today opened the showdown phase of negotiations with the Communists aimed at ending the Indochina war.

French Premier Pierre Mendes-France and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden reportedly feel the Eisenhower administration's decision to resume a major role in the Geneva talks has boosted chances of getting an Indochina cease-fire before July 20. Mendes-France has promised to resign if he fails to get a peace agreement by that date.

The French and British leaders flew back here Wednesday after a quick meeting in Paris with Secretary of State Dulles which produced the U.S. decision to send Under Secretary of State Walter Bedell Smith back to Geneva Friday.

Eden conferred with Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and got him to agree to continue private huddles until Smith gets here.

France and Britain appeared agreed on trying to negotiate a truce by dividing Viet Nam, largest of the three Indochina states and main war arena between the Communist-led Vietnam and French Union forces.

Dulles has frowned on such a partition plan. He and Smith had stayed away from Geneva to avoid associating the United States with such a settlement.

Informants said under one formula being studied by the Western Allies, the United States would stand aside without giving moral approval to the partition scheme.

Crew On Sinking Raft Saved Off California Coast

SAN FRANCISCO (P)—Five wet and weary amateur sailors who had hoped to drift to Hawaii were plucked from their foundering, powerless raft 60 miles off central California early today.

The freighter Metapan radioed at 4:25 a.m. that all of the men had been rescued despite high seas and strong winds.

Presumably all were in good condition. Details of the rescue were not available.

The Metapan, which located the tiny yellow raft Lehi, 62 miles west of Point Sal, said it was heading for San Francisco, about 175 miles away. It was expected to dock late today.

The 32-foot six-sided raft was cast adrift by the Metapan, but the coast guard said the cutter Alert would find it and destroy it as a menace to navigation.

Search for the fragile raft, which put out from San Francisco last Friday, ended off Morro Bay, 812 hours after the Coast Guard answered an urgent SOS that the craft was sinking.

Allies Now Have Unity, Secretary Dulles Reports

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (P)—Secretary of State Dulles returned from three power talks at Paris today saying "we have found a formula for constructive allied unity" which will strengthen the anti-Communist position at negotiations on Indochina peace.

Dulles flew to Paris Monday night and held emergency consultations with British Foreign Secretary Eden and French Premier Mendes-France. One of his decisions was that Undersecretary of State W. B. Smith should go to the Geneva conference to participate in the final round of talks with the Reds on Indochina.

Diplomats here believe that Dulles would not have agreed to send Smith to Geneva to provide high level U. S. participation in the conference unless he had assurance from Mendes-France ruling out a peace at any price settlement.

In a statement upon his arrival here at 9:30 a.m. EDT, Dulles said the Paris talks "have brought about an understanding concerning Indochina much more complete than has heretofore existed."

This, he added, enabled the Western ministers "to demonstrate anew the solidarity of the Western powers in the face of Communist hostility and intrigue."

Dulles went immediately from the airport to the White House to report to President Eisenhower.

Undersecretary Smith will take off for Geneva late Friday for the talks.

Dulles said the formula for allied unity was achieved without any abandonment by the United States of its principles. Eisenhower and Dulles have repeatedly stated that the United States would not sanction Red conquest of any area.

Democrat Who Backs President Heads Governors

By JACK BELL

BOLTON LANDING, N.Y. (P)—A Democratic supporter of President Eisenhower, Gov. Robert F. Kennon of Louisiana, heads the Governors Conference for a year that may bring some significant changes in relations of the states with the federal government.

Kennon was elected chairman to succeed Republican Gov. Dan Thornton of Colorado at the final conference sessions Wednesday.

The group approved a resolution calling for a survey of road needs in connection with Eisenhower's proposed 10-year, 50-billion-dollar highway construction program.

Chicago In 1955

The conference agreed to meet next year in Chicago.

Although the members avoid all outward appearances of politics and alternate the chairmanship between Republicans and Democrats.

Only Big Cases To Be Handled By NLRB In Future

WASHINGTON (P)—The National Labor Relations Board has again tightened its rules on cases it will accept under the Taft-Hartley law, in effect turning more labor disputes involving small firms over to the states.

The action announced Wednesday night, together with a similar move taken June 30, is estimated to cut the number of NLRB cases by about 15 per cent.

The board fixed standards of size applying to retail stores, newspapers, radio and television stations, utility and transit systems, and national defense plants.

For example, it henceforth will handle cases arising from newspapers only if they have at least $500,000 yearly gross revenue, or from radio and TV stations if their annual gross is at least $200,000. Previously there were no such limits if operations affected interstate commerce.

Shooting Farmer Nabbed On Plane

SEATTLE (P)—"I wanted to go to Africa and live in the jungles," explained the muscular young farmer.

He had just been arrested Wednesday after trying to take over a Trans-Canada airliner and firing a couple of pistol shots that sent a terrified stewardess scurrying from the plane parked at Seattle-Tacoma International Airport.

Eddie Marmur, 21, who makes a hobby of weight lifting, told reporters he planned to force the plane crew to fly him to Africa because he didn't like the "lousy draft."

There was no one aboard the plane, however, except the stewardess, Isabel Abraham, 24.

She turned from inspecting the forward part of the plane to find the youth seated in a front seat.

He pulled a pistol, she said, and "told me to sit down. Instead, I ran down the aisle. Don't ask me how I did it. Just as I rounded the last seat he fired the first shot. 'I think I felt the bullet whistle by. I thought he had me.'"

The bullet pierced a rear baggage compartment door.

Then as the stewardess ran down the steps from the cabin, another shot was fired, tearing a hole in the plane's fuselage.

Police soon arrived and at their command Marmur tossed his weapon through the door and came out with his hands up.

"I thought she'd stop if she heard the shot," he said, "but she just went faster. I didn't shoot at her. I shot by her."

No charges have been filed.

Senate And House Conference Tackles Tax Revision Bill

By CHARLES F. BARRETT

WASHINGTON (P)—A Senate-House conference committee has approved a more liberal Senate plan giving a special tax cut to millions of public employees who may retire before 65.

The action was one of five important decisions and scores of minor ones late Wednesday as the committee pitched into the big task of settling hundreds of differences between the House and Senate versions of President Eisenhower's tax reform program.

One item deadlocked

Only a few hours earlier Eisenhower had opened his news conference by volunteering a plea for "prompt action" on the tax bill, which he has called the cornerstone of his entire domestic program.

One issue—how much to cut income taxes on dividends received by stockholders—seemed likely to be deadlocked for some time.

In its decisions Wednesday—subject to possible reversal later—the conference committee approved four tax cuts totaling about 471 million dollars the first year, and a fifth on which tax savings figures were not available.

Reductions Approved

That compares with 485 million in reductions in the House bill and 464 million in reductions in the Senate bill on these same points:

Retirement income—Both houses had agreed on a plan to exempt from taxes the first $1,200 of retirement income for retired persons over 65, a saving of up to $240 per person a year. The Senate added a provision that public employees—schoolteachers, policemen and other government workers—could get the special tax cut even if they retired before 65. The committee approved the Senate version, with a tax reduction of 141 million.

Congress Sticks To July 31 Goal

WASHINGTON (P)—Republican leaders refused today to give up their plans to adjourn this election year Congress on July 31, despite Democratic claims that it is an impossible early goal.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, said Wednesday, "We will be lucky if we get out early in August. I suspect it will be nearer Aug. 15."

He said the Democrats believe "full and complete debate" must be had on a number of pending controversial measures.

Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican floor leader, told newsmen he believes Johnson "is unduly pessimistic." The date of adjournment hinges largely on Senate progress, since the House is further along with its work.

Knowland said the GOP policy committee believes longer working hours and a priority schedule for bills would make a July 31 adjournment possible.

Federal Housing Counsel Is Fired

WASHINGTON (P)—The Federal Housing Administration today fired Burton C. Bovard, its general counsel who refused to resign after investigations were started into windfall profits from government-backed housing construction.

Bovard has been on leave since May 7. Norman P. Mason, acting FHA commissioner, charged that Bovard had "failed to carry out the functions of his office satisfactorily."

Mason said at the time he had uncovered "no evidence of illegal activity" by Bovard.

As chief legal officer Bovard passed on the administration of housing laws under which, Senate investigators charge, some apartment builders reaped enormous profits by getting government-insured loans far in excess of construction costs.

The FHA said Bovard would be removed from federal service at the close of business today.

He has been general counsel since 1940, five years after joining the agency.

Fasting Twins Freed On Bail

HOLLYWOOD (P)—Haggard after 23 days in jail without food, the freed Finn twins sipped milk and gulped vitamin pills today.

George and Charles, who lost 50 pounds between them during their fast in protest against what they termed the injustice of one-year sentences for interfering with a government officer, are in La Brea Hospital.

They were whisked to the hospital by ambulance late Wednesday after being released from the California Medical Facility at Terminal Island on $1,000 bond each, pending their appeal.

They had vowed to starve to death rather than eat while in custody.

All their troubles stemmed from purchase of a war surplus C46 cargo plane from a school district. The government contends the purchase was illegal. The twins, both of whom have fine wartime flying records, contend it was legal.

At the moment the 40-year-old twins are more concerned with what they denied themselves for 23 days—food.

Both agree that the first three days of their self-imposed fast were the toughest. Hunger pangs bothered them most of that time.

After the first three days, they tried not to think of food.

Gypsy Moth Snuffed Out In Lansing Area

LANSING (P)—Aerial spraying of the Lansing area with DDT seems to have snuffed out the gypsy moth in its first appearance west of Pennsylvania.

But state agriculture Department experts say that the next week is the critical period when any eggs the destructive moths laid will hatch. The moths attack all kinds of vegetation.

"Our spraying also killed tent caterpillars, mosquitoes and other pests," a spokesman said. "The mosquitoes are starting to come back though, and every day we get calls asking us to spray again."

Army Officers Face Court-Martial; Had Men Stand In Heat

FT. DIX, N.J. (P)—Court-martial proceedings have been ordered against an Army lieutenant and a sergeant charged with having their company stand at attention for an hour in 90-degree heat.

An investigation into the June 21 incident led to the court-martial order Wednesday by Col. Earl R. Ringler, commanding officer of the 272nd Infantry Regiment.

Ringler ordered a July 22 trial for Lt. Robert S. Morgan, 28, of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and Sgt. L.C. Richard J. Witbeck of Wellington, Ohio, on charges of taking mass disciplinary action against Company L.

Both men—Morgan was company commander and Witbeck his administrative first sergeant—have been relieved of their duties.

Several soldiers reportedly fainted during the disciplinary action, which was imposed for a reason not explained by the Army.

In his order, Ringler said Morgan would be charged with dereliction of duty under Article 92 of the Uniform Code of Military Justice "in that he negligently failed to take appropriate corrective action to prevent the unauthorized treatment of personnel in his command."

As for Witbeck, he will be tried under Article 93 for alleged mistreatment of company personnel "by keeping them in formation and inattention for an excessive period of time."

Senators Oppose Private Utility

By RUSSELL BRINES

WASHINGTON (P)—Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.) predicted today some Republican senators will join many Democrats in supporting a proposal to block President Eisenhower's plan to place a new private power plant in the Tennessee Valley.

The Senate approached a vote on the proposal, an amendment to a lengthy bill to revise the Atomic Energy Act in line with the President's program to exchange more nuclear information with foreign allies and to permit private industry entry into peacetime atomic activities.

Eisenhower has directed the Atomic Energy Commission AEC to conclude a 25-year contract with a private utility group for a new steam power plant to service the Memphis, Tenn., area over Tennessee Valley Authority lines. The power would replace TVA power being shifted to the AEC's plant at Paducah, Ky.

Western Union Rates Increased

WASHINGTON (P)—Western Union's interstate rates went up an average 11 per cent at midnight Tuesday, a boost the Federal Communications Commission figures will bring the telegraph company another nine million dollars a year.

FCC okayed the firm's proposed rate hike, saying it is designed to restore Western Union's earnings to the 5 per cent level recorded in the first half of 1953. If state regulatory bodies allow similar increases for business within the state, FCC said, the company would pick up another nine million annually.

The interstate increases range from 3 to 20 per cent, with about a 16 per cent rise for general telegraph message service. The press rate stays unchanged.

Cheap Plywood Imports Harm Local Industries

The future of the plywood industry in the Escanaba-Gladstone area does not look bright because of the growing flood of imported veneers.

The Northwestern Veneer and Plywood Corporation of Gladstone and the Bird's Eye Veneer Company in Escanaba have been forced to cut their labor forces in half. About 350 men have been made jobless because of the production cuts.

Imports of cheap plywood from foreign countries has reduced the U. S. market by 25 per cent and threatens to become worse according to figures released by the Hardwood Plywood Institute of Chicago.

Stanley Venne, president of the Northwestern Veneer and Plywood Corporation said that the foreign plywood was selling for about half the cost of the domestic product. Although Northwestern is maintaining logging operations in the Big Bay and Trout Lake areas there is no prospect for increasing production.

The Local Effect

The Bird's Eye, which buys its logs on the open market, has more timber offered than it can use, according to Russell Lee, treasurer of the company. He said that plywood sales were being made to firms which needed the plywood immediately. Those who could wait six months for their product were buying from Japan or Finland at a lower cost.

Both Venne and Lee agree that there is little hope for increased production in the future unless something is done about the imports. The Hardwood Plywood Institute has made application for relief before the U. S. Tariff Commission.

The institute is asking for a creased tariff and a quota system for foreign producers.

Imports Going Higher

The Institute has released figures showing the increase in foreign plywood imports for the period from 1950 to 1953. In that time imports rose from 63 million square feet to over 220 million square feet. Of that figure, nearly 105 million square feet came from Japan.

In 1950 Japan exported slightly over five million square feet to the U. S.

An employment survey made of 43 plywood plants throughout the nation indicates that about 20 per cent of the labor force has been laid off. The average work week has been reduced.

The loss in take home pay suffered by workers in the 43 plants polled amounts to more than $2,000,000 for the first quarter of 1954.

Sale Of Exhibit, Concession Space, Under Way At Fair

The sale of exhibit and concession space at the Upper Peninsula State Fair at Escanaba Aug. 24-29 is progressing at a rapid pace. Ben D. Miller, chairman of the board of managers, has announced.

Only limited space is still available in the main exhibition building but there still are choice locations available on the midway, in the new industrial building and on machinery row.

A wide variety of commercial products will be demonstrated at the fair again this year, including a number of new specialty and novelty items.

All concessionaires are advised that the board of managers will carefully guard against extortion, in any form practiced on the patrons of the fair. Violators will be expelled from the grounds and their contracts forfeited. Such cases, of course, will be referred to law enforcement officers for appropriate action.

All stands where food is served must be provided with durable roofs and all concessions serving lunches must have separate cook rooms. All food must be covered and protected from dust at all times. Prices of food must be prominently displayed.

Inquiries regarding space on the midway, the exhibition building or machinery row should be addressed to the Upper Peninsula State Fair, Escanaba. Inquiries regarding space in the industrial building should be addressed to

Staff Elected In County Chest

The Delta County Community Chest met Wednesday to elect members of the 1954 executive committee.

Township representatives are Rev. Wilbert Johnson of Rapid River and Victor Borgia of Garden. James Ward Jr. and Sam Ham will represent Escanaba with Wallace Cameron and Oscar Ohman for Gladstone. James T. Jones of Gladstone will represent the Michigan Children's Aid Society and Nicholas Chapekis will represent the Salvation Army. A. B. Ellingson of Gladstone was elected as an ex-officio member of the committee.

Present at the meeting was Miss Lena Cochran, a representative of the Family Service Association of America. Miss Cochran spoke to the chest group about the Family Service program and what it could do for Escanaba.

She cited the high cost of divorce and unhappy living to the community. She said that the divorce came first and was usually followed by a request for welfare by the woman who finds that she cannot support her children on the money she is receiving. The high cost of juvenile delinquency resulting from the divorce was also noted by the social worker.

The Delta County Bar Association at a meeting Monday adopted a resolution endorsing the Family Service program.

Miss Cochran will return to Escanaba July 21 after touring other Upper Peninsula cities.

Good Weather Forecast Here

A high temperature of 75 was recorded yesterday with more of the same enjoyable weather the prospect for today and tomorrow in the Escanaba vicinity, says S. E. Decker of the Escanaba Weather Bureau.

The low last night, however, went a little cooler than was indicated when the mercury fell to 54. Sault Ste. Marie continued to be the coolest spot in the Upper Peninsula when the temperature fell to 45.

This morning at 10:30, 71 degrees was recorded with the high expected to be around 76 or 77 this afternoon. Fair and mild is the forecast for tomorrow, according to Decker, with the possibility of scattered showers moving into the Northern Wisconsin and Upper Peninsula around Saturday.

The heat wave which had gripped most of the country for the last few days seemed to be abating somewhat. As the cool mass of air moved in from Canada, temperatures turned near normal.

Upper Peninsula Briefs

CRYSTAL FALLS—A move by Supervisor Anderson, of Crystal Falls, to close the court house on Saturday mornings during June, July and August has been defeated by an overwhelming vote at a meeting of the board of supervisors.

STAMBAUGH—Skillful piloting by R. D. Long, of Park River, N. D., brought him safely through some anxious moments at the Ford Airport here Tuesday afternoon when the retractable gear of his plane failed to function and he came in "on his nose" for a forced landing. Long escaped unhurt, and only minor damage resulted to his plane.

ISHPEMING—The Inland Steel company and local union officials have signed a new two-year contract, including the provisions of the June 29 U. S. Steel agreement, plus some local administrative revisions.

CRYSTAL FALLS—The 50-year-old clock in the court house tower is to be re-conditioned and electrically-operated. The board of supervisors Tuesday authorized the work done on a bid of $688 submitted by Wallace JaKa, of Ottawa, Ill., whose grandfather installed the clock in the early 1900's. In his bid JaKa said he would service the clock from time to time.

Wards, Union, Exchange Proposals To End Strike

Montgomery Ward Company and union officers last night exchanged proposals looking toward a new contract and termination of a strike that has closed Ward's store in Escanaba since Oct. 2, 1953.

The exchange was made at a meeting held last night at the House of Ludington and attended by Commissioner James Despins, Green Bay, of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

The company representatives are taking the union proposal to Chicago with them for further study, and Despins said that he expects to hear from them early next week. The events were described by Commissioner as "somewhat encouraging."

Charles Carter of Escanaba represented the union international and local at the meeting, accompanied by the local union committee.

Charles Barnhill, Chicago, attorney of Ward's labor relations department, and C. A. Windness, Green Bay district manager, attended the meeting representing Montgomery Ward in the negotiations.

"No progress" was reported by Despins in efforts toward settlement of a strike over wages that has closed the Hoyer and Baur bakery since July 2. About 35 persons are affected by the strike.

The walkout followed a company proposal to reduce wages of sales drivers $5 per week and of inside employees 10 cents an hour. Employee members of the Teamsters Union walked out in protest against the proposed wage cut.

Hoyer and Baur management said the wage reduction is necessary to the firm to meet competition.

Beggs Leader Of U. P. Inductees

For the fifth time since September, 1948, a Delta county inductee has been appointed to be leader of a group of inductees from the entire Upper Peninsula, according to Mary Wagner, clerk of Delta County Selective Service Office.

Charles T. Beggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Beggs, 1308 Ludington St., was chosen by his commanding officer to be in charge of a group of 34 men. The men were sworn into the Army on July 12.

These men are reporting to Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., from Milwaukee where they will undergo basic training.

Statistics Reveal People Are Going Right On Saving

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—People are going right on saving—it says here in the statistics put out by the government, the bankers, and the life insurance people.

It's hard for a lot of people to believe that any one can save in these days of the high cost of living, of big baby crops and larger families, of high taxes, of a business slowdown and lower take-home pay for many.

But figures released this week show that by and large Americans are putting as much or more away this year than last and that total savings continue to rise. It's going into U. S. savings bonds, into life insurance, bank deposits. Totals for all of them are rising.

Carried Too Far

And merchants will tell you—some of them rather sadly—that many consumers are putting a reverse English on saving, too. They are paying up their installment debts faster than they are taking on a new debt by buying gadgets on time. Getting out of debt is one form of saving. Merchants think this can be carried too far.

There are other forms of saving which a man may not realize he's making.

"I can't save anything," a man will tell you. "After I've made the life insurance payment, paid the monthly installment on the mortgage on my house, put money each month in that fund that the wife insists we have against the time junior goes to college, why, I have a hard time finding enough to meet the payment, on the car and the freezer."

But life insurance is a form of saving, a way of building an estate. A home of your own is a form of saving.

The U. S. Treasury reports that in the first half of this year of supposed recession it sold 13 per cent more in E and H savings bonds than in the same period of booming 1953, and, in fact, set an

Life Insurance Gains

Deposits in the savings banks of New York State alone increased 393 million dollars in the first half of this year.

The Institute of Life Insurance reports record purchases of new life insurance policies in the first six months of this year for a gain of 18 1/2 billion dollars. The total of such insurance is now estimated at 319 billion dollars for the nation as a whole.

Accident and health insurance purchases are also running much higher than a year ago.

All of this is being done, curiously enough, on a lower total of personal income, according to the Department of Commerce. It finds that in May, its latest figure, personal income totaled about one billion dollars less, on an annual rate, than in May a year ago.

Cadillac

No Compromise This Time!

It was over twenty years ago that he took title to his first motor car—and, since that time, he has owned and driven almost a dozen different automobiles.

And yet, every time he accepted the keys to a new car, he knew in his heart that it was a compromise.

For—like so many millions of his fellow men—he had his heart set on a Cadillac!

Well, there's no compromise this time! The magic moment has arrived. The papers are all in order... the keys are in his hand... and the car of his dreams is waiting for him to take the wheel. It's his!

And, if you could but ride with him on that first journey, you'd understand what it means to have a motoring dream come true.

You'd see excitement in his eyes as he rolls majestically through the city's traffic—and puts his Cadillac through its thrilling paces on the open road.

You'd see honest pride in his face as he sits, calmly and serenely in the driver's seat, and catches the admiring glances of his fellow motorists.

And you'd sense the joy in his heart as he turns down that familiar street and heads for the happiest homecoming of the year!

In short, you'd witness a motorist in his finest hour—living out an experience that has no counterpart in the world of transportation. It is a thrill and an inspiration and an education—all rolled into one.

A friend of ours put it this way. "There are two kinds of automobiles," he told us. "There are Cadillacs—and there are all the others."

Whether or not you've driven "all the others," we can't say. But of one thing we are certain: Until you've spent an hour in the driver's seat of a 1954 Cadillac, your motoring education is not complete.

Why not come in soon and do so?

Segregation Ruling May Have Strong Impact In '56 Voting

(By Congressional Quarterly)

WASHINGTON (CQ)—Political professionals say the Supreme Court decision ruling out segregation in public schools will have far-reaching impact on voters but that this is more likely to show up strongly in the 1956 election than in this year's Congressional races.

Congressional Quarterly found general agreement among politicians and political specialists that the Court decision will have election repercussions. Interviews since the Court May 17 said that segregation is a "denial of the equal protection of the laws" guaranteed by the Constitution's Fourteenth Amendment, pointed toward these conclusions:

1. Although the decision was rendered by a Supreme Court made up of seven Democrats and two Republicans, it occurred during a Republican Administration and is likely to make the President, and perhaps his party, more acceptable to Negro voters in Northern and Border states—voters who have been predominantly Democratic since 1944. It is not expected to affect appreciably the Negro vote in the South.

2. The decision will be, however, only one factor that will influence Negro voters this year. So far as the Negro is concerned, the most important issue in the 1954 election is the economic health of the nation. Prosperity or a slump is first felt by Negroes, who are often the last hired and first fired.

3. The decision may cause some Southern white voters to turn away from moderates on the race issue in favor of candidates who openly oppose the Supreme Court ruling. Republican Congressmen from Virginia (3) and North Carolina (1) districts may lose some Southern white votes, but may pick up some Negro votes. Southern leaders' generally non-inflammatory comments regarding the decision probably were due to the growing Negro vote in the South.

There are now an estimated 16 million American Negroes and about three million are registered voters, including more than a million in the South. The Negro vote was Republican following the Civil War until 1940, when large numbers of Negroes switched to the Democratic Party.

In the 1952 Presidential contest, the Negro vote was 73 per cent Democratic and 27 per cent Republican in Negro wards and precincts of 47 cities, according to a survey conducted by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. The Negro vote was more than 90 per cent Democratic in Detroit; Gainesville, Ga.; Wilmington, N. C.; Columbia and Darlington, S. C.; and Corpus Christi and Houston, Tex., according to the NAACP survey. Many politicians believe South Carolina and Louisiana stayed in the Democratic column in 1952 because of the Negro vote.

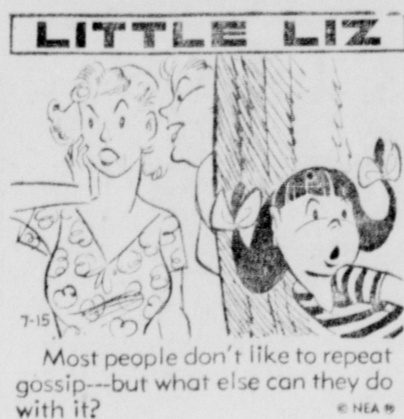

Civil Rights Milestone

Having voted so heavily Democratic, Negroes were somewhat apprehensive about the Eisenhower Administration since it did not "owe" them anything, political specialists say. But the color bars that faded during Democratic Administrations have continued to disappear. The GOP Administration has produced a large number of Negro appointments, including that of J. Ernest Wilkins, Chicago lawyer, as Assistant Secretary of Labor; and segregation is on the way out in restaurants, hotels, theaters, playgrounds and schools in the District of Columbia. The Supreme Court decision is the most important of recent civil rights milestones, politicians agree.

Immediately after the decision was handed down, Republicans made a survey among 416 Negroes in the District of Columbia to find out what they thought about the decision, who they felt was responsible for it, and to what party they belonged. All of those interviewed favored the decision, and 304 replied that President Eisenhower, the Republicans or Chief Justice Earl Warren was responsible for it. Seventy said they didn't know and 42 said the Democrats were responsible. Of those queried, 240 said they were Democrats, 144 were Republicans, 32 would not say.

One of the aims of the Republican National Committee is to sell its Party to the Negro. The Negro vote could be of vital importance this year in marginal Congressional districts, particularly those where it is more than five per cent of the total. It may also be important in Senate races in California, New Jersey, Illinois, Ohio, Delaware, Oklahoma, Tennessee, and to a lesser extent in Michigan and West Virginia, according to the Republicans. It is not likely to swing Republican in most Southern States, however, because there the Negro, like the white, feels he must vote Democratic if

Need For Highways Grows In America, Motorists Agree

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Fifty billion dollars is a lot of money.

Yet many a driver who tackled the more popular of the nation's highways over recent weekends would probably agree that the new roads the 50 billion dollars would buy could well be used. As President Eisenhower points out, "billions of hours" are wasted in traffic jams and delays.

Businessmen, as well as politicians, will have plenty to argue about in the President's proposal. The states and the federal government build the roads, who should collect the gasoline and auto taxes.

New Boom Ahead

But for all there is one point of optimism. The President's stressing of the need for more roads points up one of the facets of the great growth prospects for the nation.

Many businessmen have insisted all along that the recent slowdown in industrial activity is but a sengers could park their autos.

Railroads Have Stake

And now that some of the railroads are going in for carrying truck trailers piggy-back on flat cars between cities, they have a stake in better expressways and speedways within cities and their suburbs.

Outside the field of controversy, business will welcome more and better highways for many reasons.

An expanded highway system will speed deliveries of finished goods and raw materials, not only for city-based factories and stores, but for the increasing number of them that are taking to the suburbs and countryside. Present delivery delays costs industry untold millions of dollars.

Gasoline producers and sellers, makers of autos, tires and hosts of accessories and parts will welcome more roads, of course.

BEFORE THEIR TIME

VIRGINIA CITY, Mont. (AP) — Historic Virginia City's courthouse was built years before Montana women served on juries. Therefore, it still has accommodations for but one sex. When seven women were seated for the first murder trial jury in 19 years, the courtroom was cleared each night and the five made jurors slept there in portable beds. The women slept in the jury quarters.

Cancer Takes Life Of Priest Who Saw Privilege In Death

PARSONS, Kan. (AP)—The Rev. Julius Busse, 47, a Catholic priest who once said he considered it a privilege to die of cancer, died Tuesday night.

His death at Mercy Hospital ended months of suffering from abdominal cancer.

Fr. Busse attracted attention last January when he said death is a thing "to be desired, not feared."

"It is a journey from earth to heaven, and who would say the change is not for the better?" he said.

Fr. Busse is survived by his 80-year-old mother who lives at St. Paul, Kan., four sisters and five brothers.

His disease was discovered in 1952 when he visited Mercy Hospital in preparation for a trip to Osaka, Japan, where he was going to found a Passionist monastery. Subsequently he underwent four operations.

After the last operation, in the fall of 1952, he was told his case was incurable. Last January, his doctors said death was near.

"I consider it a privilege to die of cancer," the priest said at the time, "with cancer you have time to prepare for death."

Man Arrested Trying To Do Doctor's Work

Penguins, contrary to popular impression, do not all live in regions of ice and snow, says the National Geographic Society. Besides the Antarctic species, many inhabit the east and west coasts of South America, the shores of South Africa, and areas of Australia, New Zealand and Pacific islands. However, penguins are not found north of the Equator.

Viet Minh Menaces 3 Indochinese Nations

WASHINGTON—Viet Minh, the Communist dragon that swallowed Dien Bien Phu, menaces not just one but three Indochinese nations. Indochina today is a geographic name rather than a political entity, the National Geographic Society points out. Actually at stake are three quite distinct, virtually independent countries—Viet Nam, Laos, and Cambodia.

Most populous by far, Viet Nam holds the richest prizes and already has seen eight years of fighting. As a whole, Indochina's three States, members of the French Union, cover a third more territory than France itself. Placed on the east coast of the United States, they would reach from Maine to Georgia and inland beyond the Appalachians.

Viet Nam's Rice Bowls

Viet Nam has been described as two baskets of rice hung from a shoulder pole of mountains. On the northern Red River delta around Hanoi, and in the far south on the plains of the Mekong River around Saigon, a majority of Viet Nam's 25,000,000 people are crowded into rice-rich lowlands. Between stretch the long rugged Annamese mountain ranges.

Viet Nam means "People of the South." It is a Chinese term, and from China, down the centuries, came much of Viet Nam's language, religion, and culture. Similarly Viet Minh, the Communists' name, means "Association of the People."

Generally speaking, Viet Nam

now holds the rice bowls and Viet Minh the limestone mountains and wild jungles. Most gravely threatened is the triangular Red River delta. With more than 1,400 people to the square mile, it is one of the world's most crowded areas.

Vietnamese defenders, aided by the French, have ringed the delta and Hanoi with hundreds of strong points. Here may be fought the next great battle, as the Viet Minh, under Moscow-trained Ho Chi Minh, switches its infiltrating hit-and-run tactics to outright assault.

Land of a Million Elephants

West of the mountain spine, Laos and Cambodia are lands of differing peoples and cultures, more closely related to Thailand, Burma, and ancient India than to Viet Nam with its Chinese influences.

Laos, oftentimes called the "Land of a Million Elephants," is a kingdom of Thai tribes who speak the same language as northern Siamese. Peaceful, unhurried, and naturally friendly, they number little more than a million; Laos, twice the size of Pennsylvania, has only half as many inhabitants as Pittsburgh's metropolitan area. Their king is named Sisavang Vong.

Viet Minh forces invaded Laos in 1953, but were stopped by French troops flown to the royal capital of Luang Prabang. Communists control today chiefly a slice of northeastern Laos just across the border from Dien Bien Phu.

Builders of Angkor

Cambodia, the southern kingdom watered by the Mekong River and facing the Gulf of Siam, has had almost no trouble with Communist rebels so far. Cambodians are Khmer peoples, descended from the civilization that built, over 1,000 years ago, the magnificent temple city of Angkor. Today they number about 3,750,000.

Viet Nam writing uses Roman letters. Cambodia still employs the graceful, rounded lines of Sanskrit. Cambodia's king is Norodom Sihanouk, his capital Phnom Penh. Like Laos, Cambodia maintains a diplomatic chancellery in Washington and in other world capitals.

Indochina's crisis lies partially in the fact that six times as many people live in Viet Nam, with its two rice bowls, as in Laos and Cambodia combined. Should Viet Nam fall, its two neighboring States would find it increasingly difficult to stand alone.

Ford Estate Winds With $2,361,802.62

DETROIT (AP)—The third and last accounting of the estate left by the late Henry Ford shows $2,361,802.62 remaining after taxes and debts. Most of it was in government securities.

Ford's grandsons, Henry Ford II, Benson Ford and William Clay Ford filed the accounting with Probate Judge James H. Sexton. The estate will be finally closed when a receipt is returned from the Ford Foundation. The Foundation will get all of the estate. It originally lent the money to pay off inheritance taxes.

Officers Of Rock Post Installed At Dinner Meeting

ROCK—A crowd much larger than anticipated attended the Rock American Legion Post 559 installation supper at the clubhouse Saturday evening, July 10. About 70 were present.

The program opened with greetings by the commander, Francis Trombly. Preamble of the Constitution by the Legionaires Flag Salute led by Clifford Carlson and invocation by Lester Carlson, chaplain.

Toastmaster of the evening was Leslie Maki, district commander. Guests from Rock and out-of-town were introduced.

Supper consisted of chicken "booyah".

Roger Ramseth, Wolverine Boys' State delegate, whose trip was sponsored by the Lions and Legion, gave a very interesting description of his stay in East Lansing. He said it was a week filled with wonderful opportunities for observing government in action. Boys running for office began campaigning as soon as they arrived. There were two different parties and the dorms were divided to form cities, counties and state governments.

Hafeman, Guest Speaker
They also had a chance to observe several mock trials, and listen to a variety of speakers, he said. Different courts and judicial procedures and matters pertaining to government were explained. For recreation there was baseball, tennis, swimming, etc. In order to preserve good conduct, boys received demerit points for misbehaving. The wing raving the most points had to clean up afterward.

Guest speaker was Irving Hafeman, alternate committeeman from Powers. He spoke on "Good of the Legion." He pointed out that the Legion was the only organized club that can lobby in Congress. He cited many things accomplished, one of the most important, passage of the GI bill of rights.

Special entertainment was furnished by Eino Tapola on his accordion.

Officers Installed
Installation of officers was conducted by Mr. Hafeman and Les Maki. The new staff consists of: commander, Sulo Ruotsala; adjutant, Waino Alto; finance officer, Eugene Falek; sergeant-at-arms, Emil Lusardi; post service officer, Leslie Maki; historian, Aaro Sutela; chaplain, Lester Carlson; first and second commanders, Robert Weingartner and John Kleiber.

The closing address was given by the new commander.

A memorial service was conducted by Lester Carlson, chaplain, with roll call of the departed comrades.

The room was then cleared for dancing with music by Eino Tapola.

CALVES AT WHOLESALE

Rosa Ponselle Voice Still Thrills Friends In Records For Fun

By LOU PANOS
AP Newsfeatures
BALTIMORE (AP)—"I'm down in the dumps," said Rosa Ponselle. In such a setting the word "dumps" had an odd ring. The huge white Italian villa was luxuriously trapped in Renaissance furnishings. Drawers were stuffed with mementoes recalling one of the most fabulous careers in music history.

"One of my dogs died this morning," the great soprano explained. "Then something went wrong with the chimney and the sparks set fire to my hedge, the caretaker wasn't on deck when I needed him, and Lloyd Garrison showed up late so we're behind schedule on editing the recordings."

The recordings were done at "Villa Pace," the Ponselle home named after the aria which highlighted her success in "La Forza del Destino," her 1918 Metropolitan debut opposite Enrico Caruso.

When the former prima donna finished reciting her troubles, everyone expressed sympathy about the dog, Barbara Nuttall, a friend and pupil assured her steps were being taken to have the chimney fixed. Lloyd Garrison, an admirer who made the recordings, explained his delayed arrival. A newsman mumbled condolences about the domestic help situation. Shake Vartenissian, another friend and pupil expressed a feeling that everything would work out beautifully.

Miss Ponselle then mounted a balcony overlooking the spacious entrance hall, three French poodles took their customary stations at her feet, and the editing began.

For the next half hour Villa Pace vibrated to the voice of Ponselle. The golden notes of Schubert's "Ave Maria" swelled and overflowed a background of organ music while the small group of listeners, including the dogs, sat transfixed, bound by the spell.

"The voice is 'right there'," cried Miss Vartenissian when it was over.

"One top voice," beamed Maestro Messimo Freccia of the Baltimore Symphony.

Miss Ponselle says the recordings do not herald a comeback. She called it a career in 1939.

"I'm through with all that," she insists. "This is what I want to live here, to coach voice, to serve as artistic director of the Civic Opera as I've been doing, and to enjoy my friends."

Her only recordings now are done informally at home.

"I have many such numbers piled up back there," she said, waving toward a corner of the library. "But they were all done here, not in any studio, where you must sing by appointment."

"Now when I feel like singing, I just call up Lloyd and my accompanist, Igor Chichagov, and we make records for the fun of it."

But she still backs musical developments. Recently she took part in a nation-wide radio appeal to raise funds for the Met.

She thinks it's a tragedy that symphonies and opera companies must face such problems. "But production costs are so prohibitive she feels the financial problem will be with them until private endowments or government subsidization takes up the slack."

"If the government doesn't want to do it, as it's done in Europe," she says, "then a few industrialists should get together and foot some of the bills. To them it would be only a drop in the bucket, anyway."

With such support, plus hard work on the part of talented singers and musicians, she said, there'll always be cultural music in America.

Man Is Cheated From Jail Term

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Wallace King, charged with possession of a marijuana cigarette, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to two years in prison. He said a marijuana peddler sold him the cigarette for $1.50.

While King was waiting in his jail cell to be transferred to prison, Judge L. A. Grayson called him into court and set aside the sentence. An analysis had revealed that the cigarette contained only regular tobacco.

Social Activities Enjoyed At Tri-Club Invitational

Varied social activities were an important part of the program of the annual tri-club invitational held yesterday at the Escanaba Golf and Country Club, with over 120 members of the Gladstone and Highland clubs and the hostess club in attendance.

They included a breakfast, a luncheon at 1 p. m., bridge and a tea in the late afternoon.

Graduating shades of blue and white delphinium in effective arrangements were used in the table decorations for the breakfast and the luncheon. The tea table at which Mrs. Vernon K. Johnson and Mrs. H. H. Shepeck presided was covered with a fine lace cloth and centered with a bouquet of delphinium with tapers at either end.

The bridge awards went to Mrs. Stanley Venne, Country Club, first; Mrs. E. H. Huesener, Gladstone, second; Mrs. John Root, Country Club, third; Mrs. Earl Brown, Highland, fourth; Mrs. Ed T. Blodgett of Grand Rapids, who is a guest of Mrs. Jay H. Niver, fifth; and Mrs. E. G. Bennett, Country Club, sixth.

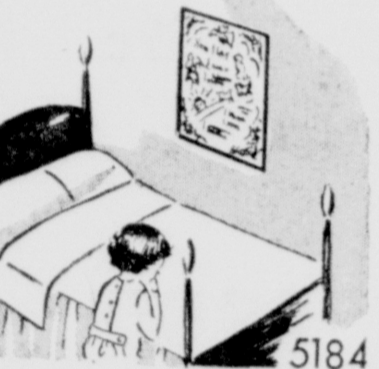

Mrs. August C. Garner was chairman of the breakfast, Mrs. T. D. Vinette was luncheon chairman and Mrs. Vernon K. Johnson was chairman of the tea committee.

Mrs. George C. Stuart was general chairman of the day. Mrs. Elmer Swanson was golf chairman and Mrs. Niver, bridge chairman. The prize committee was headed by Mrs. Harry V. Hogan.

Butter-type cakes are ready to come out of the oven when a finger-tip pressed lightly on the surface of the cake leaves no imprint. Another way to tell whether the cake is done is to insert a wire cake tester or toothpick in the center; if the tester comes out without any cake particles sticking to it, your dessert is ready to be cooled.

Dan H. Gundermans Are Celebrating Golden Wedding

Pick Powder Base Wisely

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

So many powder bases and foundations are now on the market it's not surprising that many women are expressing confusion about their purposes.

They wonder whether there's a difference between bases and foundations. And whether the various creams, lotions and cakes are prepared merely to satisfy feminine caprice or to benefit different skin types.

The terms, powder base and foundation, are not synonymous. A base is supposed to help the powder to adhere longer and at the same time to protect the skin from the elements.

A foundation, on the other hand, gives a heavier coating that adds color and hides imperfections. It's available in liquid and cake form. The former is made with an oily base that allows it to smooth lightly over the skin to achieve a natural look as it hides small imperfections.

Cake foundations are generally recommended for special occasions rather than for regular use. Heavier than liquid foundations, they often are applied too thickly by the inexperienced or careless hand. Consequently, wrinkles may be emphasized rather than toned down.

Bases, in creams or liquid form are the choice of women whose skins are dry and sensitive or who prefer a very natural look.

Should one desire a little color, however, liquid bases are available that protect the skin as effectively as creams while imparting a faint rosy glow.

Drive Continues For Girl Scouts

Leaders of the Girl Scout financial drive started Monday, hope to close the fund raising Saturday with the $1,000 goal achieved. The money will be disbursed during the coming year for Manistique Girl Scouting.

The year's budget, as prepared by Mrs. Milton Ketchik, finance chairman, lists Camp Timber Trail as the largest single recipient of the $1,000. Timber Trail, which is partly owned by the local scouts, has been allotted $475.

This $475 includes camp improvements and $5 per camping week for each Manistique girl.

A director and supplies for the local Scout finance day camp are budgeted at $225. The "program" category is set at $125. This includes rallies, city-wide play days and court of awards.

"Training" finishes up the remainder of the $1,000, taking $175 for leader's supplies, courses and a local person to be trained during 1955 as day camp director.

The Manistique Girl Scout Council has 14 troops with a membership of 178 registered girls and 33 volunteer workers.

This year's drive will close with a tea 3-5 p. m., Saturday in the Junior High School Home Economics room.

Two Vehicles Crash On US 2

No one was injured when a 1954 coach and a 1936 pickup collided near Ed's Bar, Isabella, on US-2 at 1:10 p. m., Wednesday. Prokop Prokop, Garden, drove the pickup into the path of the oncoming coach while making a left turn, State Police said.

Prokop, 82, was cited for "failure to yield the right-of-way to oncoming traffic." His car was traveling west at 15 miles per hour when the accident occurred. The rear of the truck suffered damage.

Harold Duane Drake, an Internal Revenue agent from Jackson, was driving the coach east at 60 miles per hour when Prokop failed to complete his turn safely. Drake's car incurred damage to the right-front. Drake, 41, was unable to swerve around Prokop since a vehicle driven by a Portland, Ore., man was following Prokop.

State Police also reported Wednesday that Enoch Asp, M-94, Manistique, had reported a larceny of peeled cedar posts. Asp believes the theft occurred Tuesday evening. Twenty-seven of the four-inch by ten-foot posts were stolen. They are valued at 60 cents each.

State Police Trooper Clyde Marquardt, investigating the larceny, believed that the posts were transported away in a truck with dual wheels. Asp suspects a tall man driving a dark-green one-ton truck. This truck was reportedly sighted near St. Ignace.

It's A Sleeper-Eater

If you like to eat in bed, a firm in London, England, has manufactured a device which can serve as both bed and table. In 15 seconds this piece of furniture can be converted from a table to a full-length bed, according to the manufacturer. During the day mattress, sheets, blankets and pillow are folded into the bottom part of the table. Named the "Doo-Stay," it comes in two sizes, a six-seater which makes a single bed, and an eight-seater which makes a double bed. It will soon be on display in Washington, D. C.

Designed for the small apartment dweller, the "Doo-Stay" can be used as a table during the day.

Completely unfolded, it becomes a full-length bed, occupying little more space than when used as a table.

With the table top folded against the wall, it allows comfortable eating in bed in this partially unfolded position.

Road Crews Start Work On Dehlin Road

Schoolcraft County Road Commission crews were expected to start work today on Dehlin Road in Hiawatha Township. The county will lay 3,000 yards of fill and 2,500 yards of gravel on the road.

Tuesday blacktopping was completed on the Green School Road in Mueller Township. Stabilization repair of M-94 between Jackpine Lodge and Aldrich Lake is currently in progress.

Bills were approved and the Dehlin project authorized at Tuesday evening's Commission meeting.

HIAWATHA—Mr. and Mrs. George Queen and son Jerry, Benton Harbor, have been visitors this week at the home of Mrs. Queen's father, William Brown. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Frigale and children, Cooks, were weekend visitors at the home of Mrs. Frigale's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lewis.

There was a regular meeting of the Hiawatha Grange held at the township hall Monday evening. Plans were made for a dance to be held at the hall Saturday evening.

Guard Conquers Christy's 4-1

Two runs in the initial frame and a pair in the sixth enabled National Guard to whip Christy's 4-1, in a tight pitcher's duel Wednesday evening. The teams were playing at Central Park in City League softball action.

Winning hurler Warren Wilson stopped Christy's on four hits as his mates were garnering five off the slants of Ben Chartier. Walks and wild pitches were Chartier's undoing.

Marv Anderson drew a pass to open the contest. Warren Wilson struck out and Bill Holm doubled Bill Poupore's glove in right-center as Anderson scored. Holm tallied on Chartier's wild heave.

The two insurance runs came as a result of Francis Rochefort's accidental bunt-single, a walk to Jack Wilson and Merrill Cornell's right-field bloop.

A walk to Dick Berger and Don Carlson's long single to center gave the loser's their single marker in the fifth.

Union Takes Offer Under Advisement

With union negotiators taking Inland Lime and Stone Co.'s offer of wage increase under advisement Wednesday, discussions between the company and Local 4302, United Steel Workers of America (CIO), were adjourned until July 23.

Inland had offered the union's 350 members an "across-the-board" five cent per hour increase, an improved pension plan and a "more modified" group life insurance plan. The package was identical to that accepted in the National basic steel contracts signed June 30.

The union's demand for the CWS Iron Manual was refused by the company. The Manual would revise job classifications and generally provide for a 15 per cent wage boost among the more highly skilled workers. Present Inland labor is divided into ten categories while the Manual extends classifications to 16. The Manual was refused by the company at contract reopening time in 1953.

The improved pension plan would increase the minimums while the insurance setup would be "more liberal" than the present setup.

Since June 30 Inland has operated without a new labor agreement. The men had operated under the terms of the old contract.

Representing the company at the meeting were A. W. Heitman, Vice-President, Inland Lime and Stone; Frank Cassell, Manager of Industrial Relations, Inland Steel Co.; Richard Nelson, Industrial Relations Department, Inland Steel; and William Price, Inland Steel attorney.

International Representative Jack Powell joined the four local bargaining board members for the union. Union President Harold Carlson, John Conte, Bernie Gilroy and William Steward were the local representatives.

Cancer Society Collects $1400

Expressing its sincere appreciation to all contributors, the Schoolcraft County Cancer Society Wednesday announced that $1,400 collected during the 1954 campaign, officially concluded this week.

House to house canvasses made by 72 volunteer solicitors during the "lights on" evening accounted for much of the proceeds.

Small amounts still remain to be collected. The county cancer campaign, under the direction of Chairman Carl L. Carlson, began April 1.

Cancer funds are used for "service to those who suffer, education of all persons to recognize cancer early and to act promptly, and research that must continue until cancer's causes and cures are discovered."

Township chairmen for solicitations were Mrs. Charles Smith, Seney; Mrs. Lyle Deuparo, Inwood; Mrs. Victor Haas, Thompson; and Mrs. Arnold Hendrickson, Hiawatha.

Clerk Mails Ballots To Voters In County

Jack, Germfask; Harry Blanford, Manistique; Hiawatha; Joseph Hardy, Cooks; Inwood; Joseph F. Fakety, Manistique; Manistique; Fay Patterson, Gulliver; Mueller; Jennie Nelson, Seney; Seney; and Lawrence Marlow, Thompson, Thompson. Manistique City Clerk is W. A. Moreau.

The ballots have one side printed with the Democratic candidates and the other face with Republicans. Voters may cast ballots in one primary race only.

Ranger Hopes To Plant Red Pines In September

Seven-hundred thousand trees are expected to be planted on 700 acres of land in the Manistique District of the Hiawatha National Forest in September. Forest Ranger Edwin R. Crook disclosed Wednesday. Machines will plant red pine on the acreage.

Airplane spraying is a possibility for 80 acres of Norway pine this summer. The spray will be used against the spittle bug.

BROWNIE CAMP

School Finance Shows Decrease

The Gladstone Public Schools ended its fiscal year on June 30 with a deficit of $3,317.72 for the year just ended. This is revealed in the report of Dr. George Kelly, secretary, which shows total income for the year from taxes and various sources of $190,242.47 and disbursements of $193,560.10.

This shows a trend in school finances and is the first time in some years that the Board of Education has found it impossible to come within their budget. James T. Jones, board president, states.

Purchase of new seating for several rooms have been delayed until the new year started July 1 or the deficit would have been greater.

The method of financing local schools permits a cash balance to be available to carry on until the end of December but all is disbursed before funds from State Aid or local taxes are received. President Jones point out. Due to the deficit mentioned this available balance has been reduced from $37,270.78 to $33,953.06. Lower enrollment also will reduce stated aid to Gladstone several thousand dollars.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our beloved husband, father and grandfather, who passed away two years ago July 15, 1952.

Time cannot heal the aching heart. Nor from our memory tear. The form and face we loved so well.

Will dwell forever there. None knows the silent heartache. Only those who have lost can tell.

Of the grief that is borne in silence. For the one we loved so well. You are not forgotten dear, Nor will you ever be.

While life and memory last We will remember thee. The flowers we placed upon your grave.

May wither and decay. But love for you who sleeps beneath. Shall never fade away. From those who loved him best.

Signed:
Mrs. Olaf Augustson and family.

U. S. To Help Red Government Again
BELGRADE (AP)—A fall drought and a late summer threaten to cut Yugoslavia's wheat crop this year close to the 1952 level that brought near starvation to the country. A bumper wheat crop last year, plus heavy imports both last year and this, are expected to fill the gap. But the country will have to keep importing, thereby consuming foreign exchange desperately needed for industrial goods.

The situation is a tough blow to Yugoslavia's communist government which has been trying desperately to increase agricultural production—even to the extent of freeing peasants from many onerous government controls and pressures. The United States may be called on to help out as it did with large free wheat shipments after the 1952 drought and again this year.

Tennis Tournaments To Be Conducted

Recreation Director Don Pfotenauer announces plans for a tennis tournament at the playground.

There will be singles for both boys and girls in two age brackets, 10 to 14, and 15 to 18. There also will be doubles for both boys and girls and the same age brackets are set.

The winner will be decided by the best out of 6 games, two out of three sets.

Many amphibians will die if they cannot keep their bodies moist.

3 Win Playground Horseshoe Titles

Tim Bolger, Dale Willis and J. C. Miller were the winners in the three divisions of the horseshoe pitching tournament held this week at the Central playground. Bolger won the junior midget event, Willis the midget competition while Miller topped the adult field.

To win his class Bolger defeated Ken Koehler, 21-17. Koehler had gone to the finals by defeating Paul Cole, 21-15. In other matches Cole beat Dave McPherson 21-11, Koehler topped Dennis Wilbee 21-11, and Bolger beat John Van Brocklin, 21-15.

Willis topped his title by nosing Max Peterson, 21-19. Peterson had defeated Jerry Koehler 21-17, while Willis beat Larry Sundblad 21-16 in reaching the finals. Willis had previously beaten John Block 21-13 while Peterson topped Charles Trygg, 21-17.

In first round matches Koehler beat Jim McPherson 21-15, Trygg won from Terry Anderson 21-16. Peterson topped John Greene 21-15, Block beat Tom McPherson and Willis wouted Elmer Holm.

Miller won the adult title by defeating Norman Butler, 21-15. In the first round Miller won from Tom Quinn, 21-15, while Butler defeated J. Johnson, 21-15.

Tax Boost Speeds Pay In Harrisburg, Pa.

HARRISBURG, Pa. (P) — Harrisburg citizens apparently are more willing to pay a $10 city per capita and residence tax than a $5 levy.

The City treasurer reports that the percentage of residents paying their taxes early has risen steadily over the years.

Even though the total tax was recently doubled the number of people paying the first two months was up slightly.

Record Purse At Arlington

CHICAGO (P)—Saturday's Arlington Classic, the second $100,000-plus purse horse race in four days at Arlington Park, is expected to carry an all-time record purse for three-year-olds.

If all 15 probable starters go to post, the total payoff will be $164,300, with the winner netting $107,475. The previous record take for a winner was $105,375 by Mark-Ye-Well in 1952.

Arlington dished out $101,920 Wednesday in its Lassie Stakes, the world's richest race for two-year-old fillies.

Claiborne Farm's Delta, a 13-1 shot, took $62,750 of the pot by winning a photo finish from the previously unbeaten Lea Lane, a 1-5 favorite.

Delta ran the six furlongs in 1:10 2-5, tying Hilena's 1932 record and paid $29.20, $4.80 and $3.20. Alspal was third.

The probable field for the classic includes Hasty House Farm's Preakness winner, Hasty Road, and King Ranch's High Gun, who topped the Belmont Stakes.

Kentucky Derby winner Determine was withdrawn from the mile test when he became ill earlier this week.

Mary Agnes Wall Sets Hot Tournament Pace

DETROIT (P)—Mary Agnes Wall, three-time champion from Menominee, appeared unbeatable as the Women's State Amateur Golf tournament moved into the semifinal round.

Miss Wall needed only 26 holes to breeze past two rivals Wednesday and was 10 under women's par for the day.

In the quarterfinal round, she had seven birdies in 12 holes and one-putted eight of the greens at Detroit Golf Club. As a result, she knocked out Mrs. J. I. Scripps of Grand Rapids, 8 and 6.

Earlier, she easily eliminated Mrs. Don Watkins of Birmingham,

Cleveland Candidates To Play Bears Tonight

The Cleveland Indians third annual baseball school and tryout camp at the City Diamond will come to a close tonight when scout Nap Ross sends a select list of candidates against the Escanaba Bears in an exhibition game at 6:30.

The camp drew 25 youthful prospects yesterday and this morning 22 were on hand to receive specialized instructions from Ross who is examining all candidates with an eye toward offering minor league contracts if the right degree of talent is displayed.

Yesterday the candidates ran through baseball fundamentals of running, batting, throwing and playing the various infield positions. Today the emphasis was on outfield maneuvers.

Goetz To Pitch

Ross' team of candidates will be headed by Sault Ste. Marie's ace American Legion Junior hurler John Hardy Goetz. Goetz hurled four Soo victories in the district tournament at Stephenson last week as Soo copped the title for the second straight year.

Manager Bob Dufour of the Bears will counter with either Charley Camps or Mel Karkkainen on the mound. The Bears' lineup will be studded with veterans. They warmed up last night by trimming the Escanaba Indians 14-7 with Dick Lough and Camps sharing the pitching duties against Norm Butler of the Indians.

"We'll use as many players as possible in the game this evening," Ross said. "It will be our only chance to see the boys in actual game competition and we can see how they react."

Greenwood At Second

Players from eight communities were represented at the school this morning. Escanaba, Gladstone, Soo, Trenary, Rapid River, Stephenson, Menominee and Bark River will be in the lineup tonight.

For the remainder of his starting lineup Ross gave assignments to Bob Rodman of Escanaba behind the plate, Jim Pringle of Soo at first base, Jim Greenwood of Bark River at second, Jerry Martin of Stephenson at short, Bucky Flath of Escanaba at third, Joe Larman of Escanaba in left field, Tom Schwalbach of Escanaba in center field and Jim Johnson of Rapid River in right field.

Among the other players who will be available for action are Bill Adams and Allen Hoskins of Gladstone, Dick Rukilla and Charles Taylor of Trenary, Jerry Steppke and Wally Allard of Menominee, Jerry LaCourse of Soo, Wayne Christoff and Dick Miller of Rapid River, Harold Gruensten and Jim Strohl of Stephenson, Allen Erickson, Dan Rousseau, Jim Allen and Jim Brown of Escanaba.

Manakiki Open Gets Under Way

By FRITZ HOWELL

CLEVELAND (P)—The Manakiki Open, with a "bit of everything" flavor, opened today with 133 golfers seeking to split a $25,000 purse and 17 amateurs tagging along for a bit of glory.

The 72-hole medal play test, on an 18-par-day basis, runs through Sunday.

Missing is last year's victor and the season's top money winner, Dr. Cary Middlecoff of Memphis. He arrived here Tuesday, hung around for a couple of hours, and then headed for St. Paul. He gave no explanation of why he was passing up the tournament.

Bob Shave, Manakiki professional and co-chairman of the tournament, was incensed.

"I think the P.G.A. should take some action against him," Shave said. "He promised to play here, he was our defending champion, and we had advertised he'd be on hand. But he doesn't even give us an excuse when he leaves."

"It's hardly the act you'd expect of a P.G.A. vice president and tournament committee chairman."

Billy Burke of Cleveland, who won the 1931 National Open, is making one of his rare tournament appearances by taking a try at the $5,000 top prize.

Seldom seen Denny Shute of nearby Akron, two-time PGA champion and British Open winner, is in this one, too.

The field also boasts a one-armed golfer, the famed Jim Nichols of Chicopee, Mass., and National Open champion Ed Furgol of Clayton, Mo.

Eagles Cop Seventh Straight Victory

The Eagles notched their seventh straight victory of the season last night by defeating the Independents in a 23-4 runaway.

The National League leading Eagles have not been defeated in league play this season.

Baker, Sailor Publinx Leaders

By WILBUR MARTIN

DALLAS (P)—A baker from St. Louis and a sailor from Jacksonville, Fla., had the rest of the field on edge today as the 29th Public Links golf tournament moved into the fifth round.

The baker, Joe Evans, blistered Cedar Crest's par 71 with two sub-par rounds Wednesday as he ousted Bob Ludlow of Indianapolis, 7 and 6, and Mike Andonian of Pontiac, Mich., 5 and 4.

William Scarbrough, a giant chief petty officer, licked Larry Holshouser of Charlotte, N. C., 3 and 2 and then won 5 and 4 victory over Milton Frank of St. Louis. Scarbrough was four under par in his match with the little Missouri postman.

Extra hole matches were common as the dwindling field toiled around the long course in 102 degree heat.

Jim Wilbert of San Francisco lost to Bob Preston of Detroit, 1 up in 22 holes. The birdie that gave him the match was the only time Preston was ahead.

E. F. Shively, Dayton, O., carried Art Jennemann, St. Louis, 20 holes before winning, 1 up, and Rodney Funseth, Spokane, went 20 before downing Wallace Smith, Royal Oak, Mich.

The fifth round and quarter-finals will be played today, 36-hole semi-finals Friday and the 36-hole finals Saturday.

Rotary Tops Kiwanis 3-0 In Little League

Dick Bourdeau hurled a two-bitter yesterday as the Rotary team blanked Kiwanis 3-0 in the Jaycee Little League circuit.

Dick Stasewich worked the game from the Kiwanis mound.

Tonight's game matches Kiwanis against the St. Joe Boosters.

Michigan State's intramural athletic program includes 22 sports ranging from archery to weight lifting.

In four appearances in All-Star competition, Mel Harder of the Cleveland Indians pitched 13 innings without giving up an earned run.

Tigers Begin Swing East; Face Boston

BOSTON (P)—Normally, you divide the major baseball leagues into two divisions with four teams in each. But at present the American League's sharpest dividing line is between third and fourth place.

This line leaves the Detroit Tigers heading up a five-team "second division." And that's where they're hoping to remain after a 14-game eastern trip opening with a twin bill against the Boston Red Sox today.

The end of the three-day All-Star game recess found the Tigers leading fifth-place Washington by three games. Boston, Philadelphia and Baltimore all were 2½ games or less farther back.

As the eastern swing began, Detroit had only nine pitchers on the squad. The departure of Dick Weik and Ralph Branca left the shortage.

But the lack of pitching depth was no more of a worry to Manager Fred Hutchinson than a recent 30-point skid in the team's batting average. The overall average now stands at a meager .250.

George Zverink and Steve Gromek were nominated to face the Red Sox in today's afternoon and night games. Gromek has won 10 games and lost 8 Zverink has a 4-4 record.

The Green Bay Packers will have their largest representation in history in the 1954 College All-Star game in Chicago Aug. 13 . . . And all but one of them, J. D. Among the 69 candidates invited out for football at Michigan State College by new coach Duffy Daugherty are two former Upper Peninsula high school stars and a former resident of Garden . . . Valdes Stops Jackson; Eyes Marciano's Crown

By JACK HAND
NEW YORK (AP)—Nino Valdes rides the glory road toward a 1955 shot at heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano today as Hurricane Tommy Jackson blows harmlessly out to sea.

The lobby of Madison Square Garden told the story of Wednesday night's two-round TKO victory for the Cuban giant on the automatic three-knockdown rule. Valdes ambled through a swarm of happy admirers, pausing to sign autographs and greet handshakers with a wide grin.

Outside, in the pouring rain, Jackson walked with head down, mumbling to himself. His family trailed behind, trying to convince him to go back to the hotel.

Calls Jackson Clown
"I won't fight nobody else until I fight him," Jackson had said in his dressing room. He made a stormy scene in the ring, tearing the referee's scorecard in two, before police ushered him to his dressing room.

"He had nothing," said Valdes, through an interpreter. "He clown fighter. Everybody expect us to go to body, we go to head in second round." About Marciano? "I knock him out in four rounds."

Harry Markson, managing director of the International Boxing Club, said "Valdes rates the next shot at Marciano after the rematch with Ezzard Charles that we hope to run in September."

Valdes Overwhelming
Valdes, an 11-5 underdog, overwhelmed the listless Hurricane, who showed only one brief flash of the fiery newcomer who stopped Rex Layne, beat Clarence Henry and knocked out Dan Buccerini in his exciting rise from prelim boy to No. 5 contender.

In the first round, the Cuban thumped at Jackson's body with both hands. Shifting to the head when the jiggling Jackson came out for the second, Valdes drove him half through the ropes with a solid right. Although the timekeeper counted four, Referee Al Berl ruled no knockdown.

Dispute Knockdown
Another right sent Jackson to the floor for an automatic-eight-count. Actually he was up at two.

Another flurry and a bull rush drove Jackson to his knees. He was up at one but the count again went to the automatic eight.

The third knockdown that ended the bout under New York rules that require a referee to halt a fight when one man has been down three times in one round, was disputed by many in the crowd of 4,465. It looked as though a push, following a blow to the neck, sent Jackson down. No matter what it was, Berl ruled "knockdown" and the fight was over at 2:35 of the second.

Valdes weighed 204, Jackson, 190½.

New American League Pennant Race Begins

By ED CORRIGAN
AP Sports Writer

The hapless, hitless and practically helpless-Baltimore Orioles invade Yankee Stadium and the Philadelphia A's, equally futile, entertain the Cleveland Indians in what you might call the openers of the "new" American League pennant race.

Casey Stengel's Yankees, have a nine-game winning streak going and are now just half a game behind the Indians, who just dropped four games to the Chicago White Sox.

The consensus around the league is that the Yanks have the upper hand now with one big "if." He is Allie Reynolds, who missed the All-Star Game because of a muscle pull in his left hip. The ailment is chronic and Stengel has no abundance of pitchers.

Lopez Not Worried
Cleveland Manager Al Lopez, says he is not particularly worried over the events of the past week. He has one point—namely, the Indians are not the kind of club that will be held to five runs in four games as they were against the White Sox last weekend.

"Al Rosen and Bob Avila have been in batting slumps since their injuries," he said. "They'll snap out of it and we'll be more dangerous than ever."

The White Sox, for their part, are three games off the pace, and the way their pitching has come around, could make things uncomfortable for all concerned.

Bobby Thomson Walks
In the National League, the New York Giants start a Western trip with a five-game bulge over the Brooklyn Dodgers, who whipped the Milwaukee Braves 2-1 in 12 innings Wednesday night in the only major league game played.

The Brooklyn victory came the hard way before a crowd of 35,470, which boosted the Milwaukee attendance over the million mark. Duke Snider batted in the runs in the first and final innings on sacrifice flies.

Bobby Thomson made his first National League appearance for the Braves in the 12th with two out and drew a walk.

Heat Wave Too Much For Golfers, Caddies

QUINCY, Ill. (AP)—Golfers traditionally brave the rain, wind and cold but the Midwest's current heat wave was too much for them Wednesday in Quincy.

When the mercury zoomed to 111 degrees, Carl Wiberg, country club golf pro, closed his shop and sent the caddy-master and 25 caddies home for the day.

Bill Toshoff, of the Milwaukee Hawks in the National Basketball Assn., is now pitching for the St. Petersburg Saints in the Class B Florida International League.

Bingo Petitions Short On Signers

LANSING (AP)—Unless the state Board of Canvassers rules other wise Monday, initiatory petitions to legalize bingo have fallen short of winning the proposal a place on the November ballot.

Completing a careful count of 326,000 signatures filed, the State Elections Division said that approximately 40,000 signatures have been ruled invalid and that the petitions are approximately 1,000 short of the 286,000-odd necessary to put the proposal before the voters next fall.

The board could, however, hold that some of the questioned signatures are valid and declare the petitions sufficient.

A division spokesman said the largest number of the petitions were thrown out because of incomplete affidavits from the circulators. A substantial number were ruled invalid because they were inscribed as being circulated in cities which are in reality villages.

Petitions must be circulated in cities and townships and not in villages because only cities and townships have full registration lists against which signatures can be checked.

Earnings Over $600 Require Tax Return

Many students from local schools who have secured summer employment are being informed by their employers that they may earn over $600 during the summer months and still be claimed as a dependent on their parent's income tax return.

"This is not true," says A. M. Menninger, district director of Internal revenue. He cautions both employers and students that this statement is not correct under present law "Legislation to this effect is under consideration by the Congress of the United States but has not been passed as law" he said.

The present law states that any person earning $600 or more during the year is subject to the federal income and must file a tax form at the end of the year. Thus students earning $600 or more during 1954 will be required to file a tax return and may not be claimed as a dependent by any other taxpayer.

Menninger states that if and when the law changes on this subject, sufficient publicity will be given notifying all taxpayers concerned.

Parade July 31 To Climax Ishpeming Centennial Program

ISHPEMING—Giant balloon figures, an attraction to "children of all ages," will be in the huge Centennial Parade, Saturday, July 31 at 3 p. m., the climax to the week long centennial celebration to honor the city's 100 year.

Miss Evelyn Margaret Ay, Miss America of 1954, will grace the parade, riding in a float specially designed for her as will Ishpeming's own Centennial Queen.

The contest for picking the city's queen is going into its last week with the closing date scheduled for Monday, July 19. The queen will be picked on her ability to sell tickets to the Centennial, with each ticket carrying 1000 votes. Thus the contest is based on popularity, initiative, and personality.

The principal speaker for the big event will be Roger Lewis, under-secretary of the Air Force, who is expected to tie in his speech with plans for Sawyer Air Field with the natural growth of this area. He will speak at the huge homecoming picnic scheduled for the winter sports area Thursday.

An unveiling of the historical windows which will dot the downtown area during the Centennial will be held Friday, July 23 and the store employees will wear centennial costumes to carry out the theme.

An earlier promenade is slated for July 16, Friday, when employees and pedestrians will be decked in centennial dress to further the atmosphere of the pre-automobile era when informal strolling was an art.

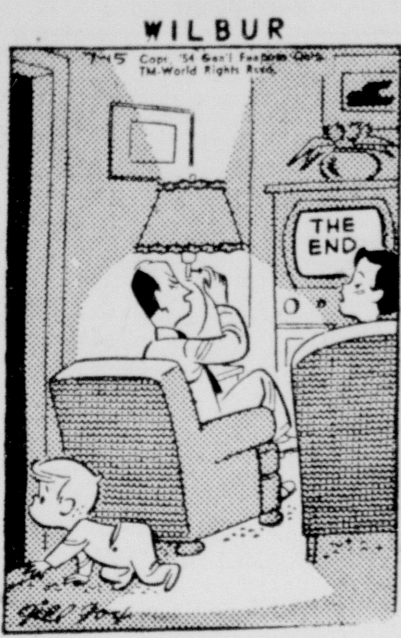

Escanaba Day In Escanaba Will Be Held On Aug. 1

All Escanaba people, now residing in California, are invited to the picnic, and everyone is to bring their own lunch.

New Law Will Aid Fishing Industry

A bill which authorizes an annual expenditure of $3,000,000 for the free flow of domestically produced fishery products in commerce by conducting a fishery educational service was recently passed, according to Victor A. Knox, Congressman from the 11th district.

After receiving Senate approval the bill was forwarded to the White House for the President's signature. President Eisenhower has signed this bill into public law 466.

"The signing of the bill will undoubtedly assist in finding new markets for fishery products of a domestic origin," Knox said.

He added that, "this measure will earmark thirty percent of the custom revenues on imported fishery products which will provide the funds needed for this appropriation."

In conclusion, Knox said "This law should prove to be a great aid to our fishing industry which is in direct competition with foreign imports. New processing methods and new markets may possibly come about as a direct result of this legislative measure."

Vote July 23 On Wheat Marketing Quota For 1955

On July 23, at the ASC office, wheat growers of Delta County will vote for or against marketing quotas for the 1955 crop.

The referendum, according to Frank Brander, Chairman of the Delta County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, will determine whether or not the quota program now in effect will continue for next year's crop.

Two-thirds of those who vote must approve quotas before they can be put into operation. The current program, which was voted on a year ago, was approved by 87 percent of the voters—390,221 to 57,536.

Brander urges every eligible wheat grower in Delta County to vote. A producer is eligible to vote if he will have more than 15 acres of wheat on his farm for harvest in 1955. In other words, he can vote if he would be affected directly by quotas, which apply only to farms with more than 15 acres of wheat.

If quotas are approved, there will be marketing penalties on any "excess" wheat—produced outside the acreage allotment—and the full level of price support authorized for 1955 will be available for those who comply with their allotments. If quotas are not approved, there will be no quotas or marketing penalties, and price support for those who stay within their allotments will be at 50 percent of parity.

Farm allotment notices were sent out on July 13 to Delta County wheat growers on record. The ASC Office, P. O. Bldg., Room 312, will be open from 8:00 a. m. to 6:00 p. m. on Friday, July 23; and we again urge all eligible wheat growers to cast their vote on that date.

Wall Street

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market advanced today, with some gains running to two points or so. Aircrafts and selected rails were among the market leaders.

Other good gains were made by Alcoa, Vanadium, Kennecott, Zenith, Admiral, Commercial Solvents, Wardell, United Fruit, Westinghouse, General Motors, Chrysler, Republic Steel and New York Central.

Among lower shares were Du Pont, Union Carbide, Union Pacific and U.S. Gypsum. Government bonds were steady.

snapped power and telephone lines and blocked highways.

The mercury hit a sizzling 120 degrees at Fort Scott, Kan., before the cooler air began moving into that state. Temperatures of 100 degrees or higher were common from Kansas, Oklahoma and northern Texas eastward to the Atlantic.

Thousands of baby chicks died from the heat in Arkansas. The Arkansas Poultry Federation said the state's poultry industry may suffer its worst baby-chick shortage in history.

Patients Packed In Ice

Volunteers responded to an appeal to help save the lives of feeble-minded patients at the state training school in Winfield, Kan. Some Mongolian-type patients are supersensitive to the heat because of deficiency in a gland that acts as a sort of thermostat in the body. They had to be packed in ice or otherwise externally cooled.

Eleven patients have died in Kansas mental institutions this week.

Even tropical plants at the Missouri Botanical Garden in St. Louis withered.

An automatic sprinkler system went into action in a suburban St. Louis car factory when the temperature reached 165 degrees in the firm's attic. Workers were drenched and the office was flooded.

WIND LOSS HEAVY

NEW YORK (AP)—Northeastern states got a stunning one-two punch Wednesday and last night from record heat followed by a whipping summer tempest. As results were added up today, at least six deaths were counted, plus property damage in the millions.

Five fatalities were recorded in New England, and one in New York City. However, the worst property damage appeared to be in New Jersey and upstate New York.

The storms late Wednesday night were marked by violent winds of near-hurricane velocity at times, torrential rain, hail and lightning.

Hundreds of homes were damaged, many by toppled trees. Thousands of others lost their electrical and telephone services because of wind-snapped wires. Many crops suffered.

Village Battered

Hardest-hit of all spots evidently was the village of Penn Yan in New York's Yates County.

Mayor Lewis A. Gracey said winds of tornadic proportions caused damages to at least 500 homes. He estimated losses at 1½ million dollars and declared a state of emergency in the village.

Another heavily battered city was Utica, N.Y. An estimated 1,000 trees were felled and damages were expected to reach a half million.

Thousands of automobiles parked outdoors throughout the Northeast were dented and scarred by wind-blown objects.

In some spots rain came so fast and heavily that small streams were sent out of their banks, causing further damage.

For hours before the storms hit, millions of northeastern citizens had sweated in record temperatures, above the 100 mark in some places.

Father And Son, 6, Drowned In River

FAIRMONT, W. Va. (AP)—The bodies of a 27-year-old Marion County man and his young son, still clasped in his father's arms, were pulled from the Monongahela River Wednesday.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Lohr Yeager said the victims, William Heron of Catawba and his 6-year-old son Wilber, had been missing since Sunday, soon after they went out in a homemade boat.

The boat, with side paddle wheels that Heron had constructed himself, was found Sunday night.

Fake Draft Card Ring Broken Up

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Donald E. Thompson, 18-year-old Battle Creek youth named in a murder warrant a week ago, was charged only with involuntary manslaughter in a federal grand jury indictment returned Wednesday.

In a separate case, the grand jury indicted two men on charges of printing false draft cards. U. S. Dist. Atty. Wendell A. Miles said the indictments heralded the breakup of a draft card forging ring. Other arrests will follow, he said.

Thompson was accused of firing the shot that killed a fellow veteran, Louis H. Grantham, at the Veterans Administration Hospital at Battle Creek July 7.

When he fled from the scene, a murder warrant was issued for him. But the grand jury found that the gun discharged while Thompson was showing it to Grantham. It ruled there was "no malice."

Named in the draft card indictments were Roderick O'Connell, 50, of Battle Creek, and John E. Ernsberger, 35, of Bremen, Ind.

Miles said O'Connell, operator of a Battle Creek printing plant, used Ernsberger's draft card as a model, printed eight draft registration cards and sold them to Ernsberger for $100.

crats, the choice of Kennon as titular head for the next 12 months was regarded in some quarters as indicating widespread support for Eisenhower.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams, Michigan Democrat, apparently was kept off the conference executive committee by a new rule against naming as members of that group governors seeking re-election.

The executive committee, headed by Kennon, include J. Hugo Aronson of Montana, J. Caleb Boggs of Delaware, George N. Craig of Indiana, Arthur B. Langlie of Washington and William G. Stratton of Illinois, all Republicans; and Lawrence W. Wetherby of Kentucky, Phil M. Donnelly of Missouri and Thomas B. Stanley of Virginia, Democrats.

State Control Hot Issue

Kennon is an advocate of increased state control over road building, an issue that may come to a head in a projected postelection conference of the governors with Eisenhower.

Most of the federal government get out of the field of gasoline and fuel oil taxes, leaving these to the states to finance highway work of their own choosing.

But the President's proposal for a vast system of coast-to-coast superhighways appeared to call for federal direction.

The upshot of three days of discussion of the issue was adoption of a resolution calling for a study of highway needs.

Senate And House Conference Tackles Tax Revision Bill

million dollars compared with 125 million in the House bill.

Single heads of households — The House approved a plan to give single heads of households the full saving married couples now get by splitting their income for tax purposes. The plan would have saved about 50 million dollars a year for about 800,000 taxpayers. The Senate knocked out the provision entirely on grounds that wealthy persons would get most of the benefits. The conference committee restored a tax cut of only about seven million dollars—providing that for two years after a husband or wife died, but not beyond that, the widow or widower could continue to split income for tax purposes.

Liberalized By Senate

Depreciation — The House approved a far-reaching plan for more rapid tax deductions for depreciation of new plants and equipment, for a saving of 300 million dollars the first year and much more over the next few years. The Senate made the plan even broader and more liberal, for a saving of 323 million the first year. The conference committee approved the Senate version.

Installment credit — The House provided an income tax deduction of up to 6 per cent of installment purchases, to cover actual interest or carrying charges. The deduction is allowed now only if the interest or carrying charge is specified separately in the bill for the purchase. The Senate eliminated the House provision. The conference committee restored it, for an annual saving of about 10 million.

Sick benefits — The committee agreed on a compromise plan for taxation of wages paid to employees under sickness or accident benefit plans. The Senate had adopted a sweeping provision under which virtually all such wages up to $100 a week would be tax-exempt. The House plan included many restrictions which would have denied the exemption to millions of workers. Under the compromise, wages up to $100 would be exempt after seven days of absence due to sickness or accidental injury. They would be exempt for the first seven days only if (A) sickness put the worker in a hospital for at least one day of the seven-day waiting period, or (B) the absence was caused by accidental injury.

State Conservation Department Short On Fox Bounty Money

LANSING (AP)—Some financial troubles were reported today by the State Conservation Department.

The department said the appropriation of $125,000 to pay for fox bounties during the fiscal year has been used up and that some payments will be delayed until additional funds can be released.

It also reported that 88 seasonal workers in Michigan's park system had to be laid off for two days recently because of insufficient funds to pay their salaries.

The department said the seasonal workers, mostly rangers and lifeguards, had to be hired earlier than usual this year because of public pressure for park service.

and conveyed toward Nuernberg. The Americans had driven to the Czech border in a weapons carrier truck July 4. As they neared the poorly defined frontier, they stopped a German and asked him where they could find the demarcation line.

The German later told police he had warned them to be careful, but that they drove on. Later border patrols found the abandoned Army vehicle near the border on the German side.

In a protest note delivered several days later, the Czech authorities said the Americans had penetrated deeply into Czechoslovak territory. They claimed the soldiers carried cameras and took forbidden pictures.

The U. S. State Department, in a sharp note, replied that the men were "abducted" and demanded their immediate release.

Old Open Road Is Replaced By Traffic-Packed Highway

THE old open road is a thing of the past," reports U. S. Steel news with a touch of nostalgia and the complaint that no longer can a family spend a pleasant Sunday afternoon enjoying a relaxing drive in the country.

Our highways are crowded, and it's not hard to see why. Today 50 million high-powered autos are fighting for a place on a highway network which was designed for half that number of 1930-model cars. We have only about 4,000 miles of good highways three or more lanes wide!

A serious problem arising from our outdated highway system is the increasing highway accident rate. President Eisenhower recognized this fact when he called a White House conference on highway safety last February and asked representatives of business, labor, agriculture and other groups to participate.

President Eisenhower emphasized that traffic accidents are causing the death of more Americans each year than were killed in the Korean War. The traffic problem, President Eisenhower said, is "a national problem of first importance."

Our highways have been causing us to lose three billion dollars a year through such operating wastes as low gas mileage and wages of truck drivers who are slowed down by traffic jams.

Highway officials estimate that if we spent only seven billions a year—which is a billion and a half more than we do now—for the next 15 years, we would eliminate operating losses in a few years' time and eventually be spending less for a first-class network than we do now for an outdated system.

Where is the "old open road"? It has been flooded with 50 million motor vehicles—just too much for the "old open road" to handle.

Other Editorial Comments

PROPORTION OF HAZARDS (Christian Science Monitor)

For those on whom, say, a 55-mm. howitzer shell makes a direct hit, the effect, humanly, is just as devastating as though it were an H-bomb. So, with a "blockbuster," or a 15-inch shell, or a submarine torpedo. But none of these make direct hits every time. And not everybody is just where they do strike.

So military and naval tacticians see to it that trenches, bunkers, and bomb shelters are built and that ships are divided into water-tight compartments. And soldiers and sailors are instructed when to take shelter and what to do when a projectile inflicts damage and injury to others.

Likewise with the A- and H-bombs.

ANOTHER RAILROAD FACE-LIFTING (Green Bay Press-Gazette)

With the Diesels supplanting the old square-riggers, and even the water tanks, in whose cool and dripping shade so many engine men sought respite from the boilerhead to eat their lunch in contentment, being torn down with impunity, one might think the railroads had enough "progress" for the present, but more surgery has been ordered and is definitely on the way. It may appear as a matter of beauty and sweetness but it is always related to the great need of life, passengers and freight.

An eastern railroad is experimenting with the Spanish-invented American-built train called Talgo, whose speed is many miles faster per hour than anything we have. The ability to get over the ties is explained by a lower center of gravity, to which curves in the tracks mean almost nothing, and the new train will have a weight of but 25 per cent of the present one, which means economy in every direction. And the Rock Island, in a defiant attitude, is going ahead with this same business, whereas the victory of Robert H. Young of the New York Central promises something called "Train X" that is said to break traditions everywhere.

There was always something about the railroads, the size of their equipment, the busy looks of their operatives, the usual trustworthiness of their schedules, that seemed to promise order, efficiency and incredible durability. But there is no rest. If men fly, the railroads cannot ignore that fact. If trucks roar past our houses like freight trains, it will do no good for the railroads to snub them. And when the railroads devised the "piggy back" transportation, that is the system of operating freight in truck trailers on flatcars to expedite delivery at destination, the American Trucking Association demanded that motor carrier licenses be required wherever the plan is used on the allegation that it tends toward a "transportation monopoly."

There have been enough bankruptcies and reorganizations to prove to almost anyone that competition can never be ignored. The railroads may never look the same, may never be the same, but if they want to issue checks that do not bounce they must pay attention to those things known as "the hard facts of life."

One last word on this Brewer's delightful DICTIONARY OF PHRASE AND FABLE reports that the longest monosyllables in English are "stretched" and "screched" (each nine letters.) I have been unable to find any words of only one syllable containing more letters. If any reader can top these, drop me a note in care of this paper.

While we're on this subject, the longest English surname is generally conceded to be Featherstonehaugh—17 letters. Imagine being named Cholmondeley Featherstonehaugh! While you'd be cramped for space when it came to signing checks, you'd have little difficulty on the phone. For the British, with a fine disdain for consonants and vowels alike, would pronounce this combination "Chumley Fanshaw!"

A young reader writes to ask if I can tell her the meaning and origin of the phrase "Eisenhower Platz." As all of us who were in Britain during World War II well recall, this was the name affectionately given by Londoners to Grosvenor Square whose buildings were almost exclusively occupied by American military personnel under the top command, of course, of General Eisenhower.

The Doctor Says . . . Shame Is Improper Attitude If Pinworms Invade Children

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

In one recent study it was found that one child in five attending the outpatient department of a large children's hospital harbored the pesky pinworm, or seatworm.

Other studies also indicate that this animal parasite is widely distributed in the population, particularly among children. Certainly there are few subjects about which I am asked more often than what to do about this unwelcome invader of the lower digestive tract.

Typical of the problem is a letter signed "Desperate Mother" which says that she has five children, all of whom are afflicted with pinworms. She says nothing about any apparent health injury to the children from these parasites.

ALL THIS FITS in with the generally held belief that pinworms or seatworms are extremely common but that they do not always cause symptoms of any kind.

When symptoms are caused, they consist most commonly of itching near the outlet of the bowel which may even produce nervousness, sleeplessness and in some cases convulsions. The eggs which are in this area become attached to the pajamas, bed linen or clothing and then are easily carried to other children.

It is this constant danger of infection from those living in close contact (and re-infection of the same person) which makes the pinworm so hard to eliminate.

CLEANLINESS and hygiene measures are of course of the greatest importance in controlling the pinworm. This, however, is usually not enough and active treatment with drugs is likely to be necessary.

The first step is to identify the egg of the pinworm by means of swab and microscopic examination. The next is to begin the simultaneous treatment of all those in the same dormitory or home who are infected.

One drug known as gentian violet has been the preferred treatment for quite a long time and has proved successful in most groups. However, there have been some failures with this.

IT IS ENCOURAGING that an additional preparation which was recently the subject of an editorial in the Journal of the American Medical Association has been found to offer much promise in treatment.

With the necessity for accurate diagnosis and careful treatment, I find the remark of one correspondent who says "I am ashamed to go to my own doctor" quite discouraging. This is surely not the attitude to adopt toward pinworms or any other physical disorder.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Few people have ever seen the budget of the United States. Some people think it's merely an ethereal set of figures that congress debates about every year. Actually, however, it's about the size of a New York phone book and just about as dull. The last few pages, however, are extremely significant and ought to be paraded on the senate floor during the debate on so-called farm subsidies.

For these figures show the amount of subsidies paid to farmers, veterans, businessmen, and others. Highest subsidy, of course, is listed as paid to veterans in the form of bonuses and hospitalization, totaling $4,214,000,000 in 1953.

What may surprise some people, however, is that the subsidy paid to businessmen is about twice as much as that paid to farmers. Farmers got $523,000,000 for soil conservation, price supports, and other government help in 1953; whereas businessmen got $1,216,000,000.

This aid to business incidentally, was not to small businessmen. It was to upper-bracket business which has yelled so loud about "creeping socialism" yet spent so much money lobbying congress into voting more money for "galloping favoritism."

They include "helpless little groups" like the United States Steel Corporation, the big utility companies, and some of the big shipping companies.

HUMPHREY GOT TAX WRITE-OFF

Here, for instance, are some of the subsidies big business has been able to obtain—in contrast to farmers' price supports.

The M. A. Hanna Company, one of the biggest iron and steel holding companies in the USA, largely owned and operated by George Humphrey before he became Secretary of the Treasury, got more than $22,000,000 in tax subsidies just a few weeks before he entered the cabinet. The Hanna Coal and Ore Co., one of its subsidiaries, got a 75 per cent depreciation on an $11,345,000 iron-ore investment in Minnesota and another 70 per cent tax write-off on a $22,000,000 nickel plant in Oregon. The two plants were permitted to depreciate 70 and 75 per cent of their value in five years instead of about 25 years.

These tax write-offs were rushed through during the last few weeks of the Truman administration so Humphrey's company would not be embarrassed by asking for them when he became Secretary of the Treasury later.

Today the new tax bill gives the same kind of quick depreciation tax write-offs to other types of big business, and Randolph Paul, former general counsel of the Treasury and author of "Taxation in the United States," has told congressmen this tax subsidy will cost the public $40,000,000 in the next 17 years. In contrast, when a farmer builds a barn he gets no tax write-off, but must spread his depreciation over a period of about 30 years.

UTILITY SUBSIDIES

The big utility companies spend an average of half a million dollars a year on their lobby to influence congress. At least that's the amount they register officially with congress. Today this appears to be reaping dividends. One utility combine, Dixon-Yates, has just put across by special order of President Eisenhower a 25-year contract with the Atomic Energy Commission, despite the opposition of a majority of AEC commissioners.

Under this order, Dixon-Yates will invest only $5,300,000 cash, be guaranteed a 9 per cent return by Uncle Sam; will own the plant at the end of 25 years; and will get the benefit of an annual $3,600,000 overcharge made up by the taxpayers for the difference between what they would have to pay TVA instead of Dixon-Yates.

This was why Congressman Hollifield of California, a member of the congressional committee on atomic energy, calls this not "creeping socialism" but "galloping federal favoritism."

In contrast the farmer is guaranteed no 9 per cent return on his investment. He has been guaranteed 90 per cent of the price paid during a cross-section average of previous years.

MORE GRAY

Here are some of the former subsidies to business to which the U. S. budget refers when it shows that business annually gets about twice the subsidy given to farmers:

Certain airlines get between $70,000,000 and $95,000,000 annually for carrying the mail. On top of this the taxpayers have paid for radar, lighting beacons and other safety aids for the airlines totaling $21,361,040 in 1951, $13,007,035 in 1952, and $7,000,000 in 1953. Taxpayers also paid $73,931,733 for personnel to operate these safety aids in 1951, plus $80,484,761 in 1952, plus about $105,000,000 in 1953. In addition, another $37,000,000 and $16,000,000 went for runways and construction work at airports in 1951-52 and another $19,821,000 in 1953.

The shipping companies also get an average of around $30,000,000 a year in subsidies to operate their vessels; the United States lines got a construction subsidy of $18,225,000, plus a national defense subsidy of $24,061,000 for building the SS United States; while the grace lines and Moore-McCormick are being voted subsidies for four new vessels by the current congress.

These vessels will be turned over to the United States in time of war and this subsidy policy may be a wise one. Also, it is important to keep U. S. airlines operating around the world. But likewise, the American farmer has to feed a good part of the world in case of war and he, like the shipping and airline companies, can't contract and expand his economy for peace or wars without facing economic chaos.

If You Visit Chatsworth House, Look Out For Ghost Of Old Bess

By TOM A. CULLEN

NEA Staff Writer
LONDON —(NEA)— Bess of Hardwick would spin in her grave if she could see the American tourists hung with cameras trooping through the satin-lined bedrooms of Chatsworth House.

For Chatsworth House, "the little Versailles Palace of England," has been nationalized and turned into a museum.

Its owner, the 11th Duke of Devonshire, has been kicked out because he is unable to pay the 80 per cent death duty on his late father's estate, and for this he can thank British Socialists.

Crushing death duties were the instrument thought up by the Socialists to put the screws to the wealthy, and as a result of this tax much of Britain's national treasure is being laid waste.

Bess of Hardwick would have had no truck with the Socialist welfare state. A two-tisted individualist of the Elizabethan variety, Bess was a gambler, a money lender, a farmer, a timber merchant—everything but a lady. She made her pile by marrying men with strong assets and weak hearts. Each of her four husbands was richer than the last, and each died shortly after she had persuaded him to leave her all he had. Bess, herself, died in 1608 at the ripe age of 90.

Her fortune, including the original Chatsworth House, she left to her second son, who then bought the earldom of Devonshire at a basement bargain for $30,000. Today, Chatsworth House, and with it one of the world's finest private art collections, has been saved from the auction block by the government's decision to take it over as a museum. The government was asking $7,200,000 as its bite-out of the $9,000,000 estate left by the 10th Duke of Devonshire, who died in 1950.

But critics of the Socialist "Soak the Rich" program are not happy that the Tories have done nothing to repeal it.

More than half the landed estates of England, they point out, have been broken up in the last 30 years, the process being greatly accelerated from 1945 to 1951 when the Socialists were in power.

While France glories in her chateaux of the Loire and the Gironde, England is busy knocking hers down for the jobbers, the critics claim.

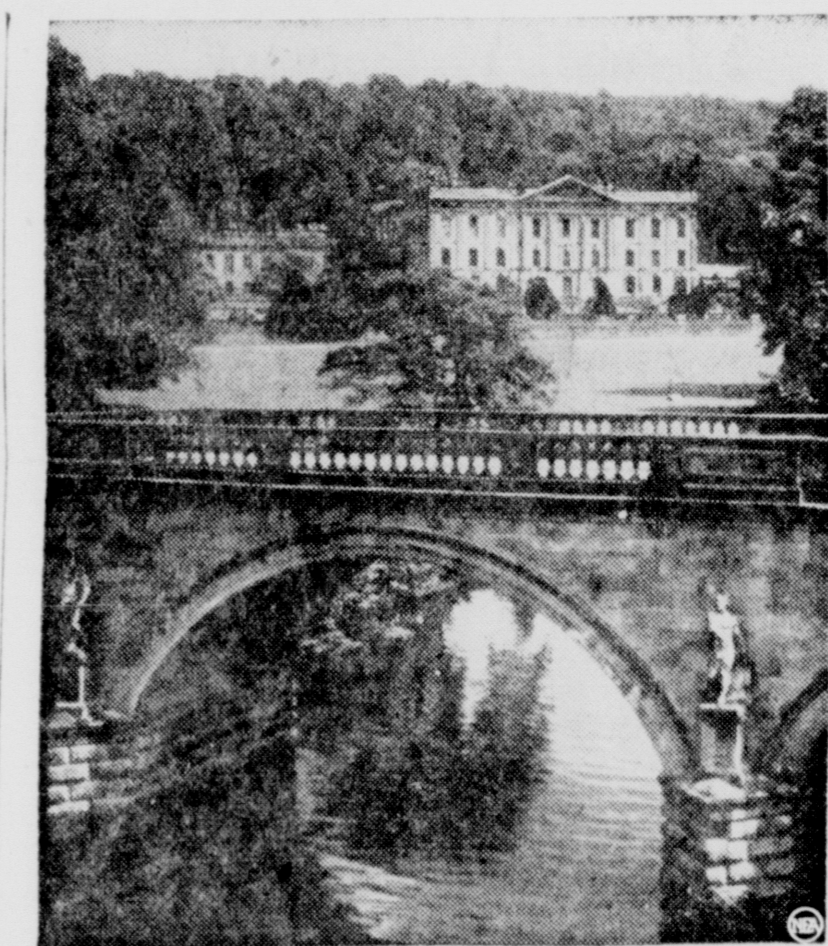

Recently, an entire picture postcard village in Buckinghamshire went under the auctioneer's hammer to satisfy death duty claims against the Duke of Bedford's estate.

During his lifetime the duke was so zealous of preserving the original beauty of this 16th Century village that he had electricity piped to its houses by underground cable.

In order to take advantage of a lower death duty rate, a wealthy Briton must make over his estate to the next-of-kin at least five years before his death. The trouble is that British dukes are what the insurance companies call "accident prone."

The Duke of Bedford accidentally shot himself while hunting 11 weeks before the five-year period expired, thus his estate is liable to the heavier death duty.

As for the 10th Duke of Devonshire, a small oak tree was his undoing. Two hours after he felled it the duke died of a heart attack.

ENGLAND'S "LITTLE VERSAILLES." Chatsworth House, is set on 50,000 acres of park and woodland in Derbyshire. The mansion was taken over by the government in lieu of death duties.

LIBERTY AT CHATSWORTH HOUSE, finest private one in England, is now part of the museum. The Duke of Devonshire employed a full-time librarian to look after rare literary treasures.

Had he lived another two months, his estate would have been taxed at a lower rate.

Meanwhile, American tourists visiting Chatsworth House can view the spoils which successive Dukes of Devonshire have accumulated over 400 years. There is plenty to see:

DaVinci, Michelangelo, Raphael, Titian, Tintoretto, Rembrandt, Rubens, Velasquez, Watteau—the top of the cream—all hang in the duke's picture galleries. Fifty-five of the more important paintings were insured for $3,000,000 when he lent them for exhibit.

The library at Chatsworth is the finest private library in Britain. The wood carvings, the tapestries, the Greek bronze head of Apollo, dating from 460 B. C., all go to make this one of the show-places of Britain.

But in walking along the corridors, watch out for the ghost of Bess of Hardwick. They say she is on the warpath.

Merely to "outlaw" atomic weapons would penalize those nations which observe agreements to the advantage of those who might not. This is one case where half a loaf is not better than none.—Bernard M. Baruch.

OLD AND NEW—Some friends of ours are having a new house built for them and they are mighty proud of it, of course.

Yet watching it go up through the weeks and months gives the impression that little new has been developed in house construction for the past century or more. The time-consuming cutting, fitting, nailing, of placing boards and beams and plaster is virtually unchanged from 1854.

Yet today's homes are tighter, warmer in winter, cooler in summer, better designed, and altogether more comfortable than any dwelling devised in the past by man, although they still consist of a floor, four walls and a roof.

Basically, however, they are structures composed of wood and metal, brick and stone and mortar. Man has come a long way in refining the inventions of the past, but he is still far from revolution in the home-building business.

FOR THE MASSES—New materials or new use of old materials characterizes much of the building going on today.

Most widespread and no doubt most needed development in homes is so-called "modern" plumbing, heating and ventilating.

Central heating has made the mass of our population more comfortable in winter, air conditioning has cooled many homes as well as business offices and public buildings, while plumbing and the attendant sewage disposal systems have eliminated the "outhouse" or "necessary" that once graced the rear of every yard.

Now the fly-blown "toilet" is no more. Banned by health authorities, the last of these conveniences will be removed in Escanaba by order of the City Council on recommendation of the Health Department.

NO NEW IDEAS—The present trend toward outdoor living, toward bigger windows and the "outward look" in homes is anything but new.

The shaded patio of the Latin countries, the terraced lawns surrounding English homes, and Grandmother's own front porch were but earlier variations of the idea. Sun deck roof tops were popular before the birth of Christ, and it was from such a promenade that David observed Bathsheba in the garden.

And those tiles on your bathroom floor—they're just as "modern" as they were 7,000 years ago when they covered the floor and lined the bath tub.

Running water? It ran from spouts and spigots in ancient Rome, piped there from springs many miles away.

And the newest "marvel" of the atomic age, air conditioning, had its counterpart in Egypt before the day of Cleopatra. The pharaohs were cooled by breezes fanned over basins of cold water by patient slaves.

Central heating? The Roman placed furnaces beneath the floors, and in chilly Iceland for centuries homes have been heated by hot water piped from boiling geysers.

THE AMERICAN WAY—These comforts of antiquity, however, were reserved generally for the very rich, while the poor sweltered and shivered alternatively in their hovels.

So it was in Colonial days in America. But within the past century there has been tremendous development in home heating, ventilating, lighting and plumbing that has brought comfort to most of our people.

Including all of these essentials, today's new house in many instances takes a backward look in the utilization of materials. Many "modern" homes have beamed ceilings similar to those that once graced the backwoods cabin. The good sound look and feel of honest boards and bricks and stones again decorates the living room.

Fireplaces are to be found in more and more homes. Not the pretty ones in which no fire is ever laid, but big ones designed to give warmth and a cheerful blaze.

Gone forever, let us hope, is the doo-dad gingerbread trim so popular on homes of the 1890 period. While it has a nostalgic quality for some historians, it gave at most only a frosting effect to the structure, and in later years degenerated into ungraceful and meaningless scrolls.

So today's house incorporates a long background of human invention and ingenuity as man strives not only to be comfortable but to be surrounded by pleasing materials and colors.

A good house may be slow in building but it will last for a hundred years or more. The era of the plastic dome and the turntable living room has not yet come.

'Blue Clearing' Viewed On Mars

WASHINGTON—Astronomers at Lowell Observatory, Flagstaff, Ariz., report they recently observed the long-awaited "blue clearing" of the planet Mars.

Only rarely, when the earth and Mars are in near opposition—almost in direct line with one another—as they were near the end of June, does the extraordinary phenomenon occur. Then astronomers call photograph Mars' surface features in blue light. At other times blue light fails to penetrate the planet's atmosphere.

Observation of the blue clearing was made by Dr. Albert G. Wilson, Lowell astronomer who is secretary of the International Mars Committee. He and scientists spaced around the world hoped it would continue for ten days or two weeks. Mars and the earth were less than 40 million miles apart on July 2, their closest approach in 13 years.

Sponsored by Society
At Bloemfontein, South Africa a "Mars Expedition" of the National Geographic Society and Lowell Observatory has been studying earth's neighbor for more than two months. Operations there are directed by Dr. E. C. Slipher of the Lowell Observatory. Meteorologists, physicists, biologists, and geologists as well as astronomers are scrutinizing Mars in at least 17 other observatories in 10 countries. Coordinated by the committee, they are attempting to find out whether there is primitive plant life on the planet. They also seek further knowledge about Mars' atmosphere, climate, size, and surface features.

Dr. Slipher first noted the blue clearing effect in 1937. Previously most information about Mars came from photographic plates sensitive to red or yellow light. Blue light was scattered by the planet's atmosphere. Thus plates sensitive to blue light alone showed only clouds.

But strangely, when the sun, earth and Mars were in line, or nearly so, surface features of the planet showed up on blue light plates. As yet there are no explanations for this, only theories.

Unique Phenomenon
Dr. Slipher's theory is that the sun bombards Mars with high velocity particles which help scatter the blue light also arriving from the sun. When sun, earth and Mars are near opposition these particles, which ordinarily travel in straight lines, are deflected by the earth, possibly by its magnetic field. Thus the particles miss Mars and the blue light reaches the planet the same as does red or yellow light.

This phenomenon appears to be unique with Mars. No blue clearing has been observed elsewhere in the solar system. Thus this important characteristic of the Martian atmosphere is being studied for clues to fundamental problems in solar radiation. According to Dr. Wilson, an understanding of the blue clearing could lead to "extremely important things."

The present study of Mars marks the first time a systematic attack has been made to solve the mystery. It will probably be several months at least before astronomers are able to assess their findings.

The Lowell Observatory first picked up the blue clearing on June 10. Plates showed the dark patches of Mars' dominant features. But Arizona clouds later obscured the view for a time.
